

Word family: still / stillness / still image / still life

Base word: still

Related form: stillness

Useful extensions: still image, film still, still life, still water

Part of speech: adverb (副詞) / adjective (形容詞) / noun (名詞) / verb (動詞)

Your sentence:

> “At the same time, the ad mentioned practical features like comfort, battery life, and sound quality, so it still felt believable.”

A useful semantic note first: still has several genuinely distinct modern meanings. In your sentence, it does not mean 「仍然」 purely in the time-continuation sense. It has a slight contrast/concession meaning:

> despite the emotional advertising, the ad nevertheless remained believable.

Meaning in this passage

Meaning: Despite what has just been mentioned, the advertisement continued to give a believable impression.

繁體中文: 即使前面有較感性或形象化的內容, 廣告依然／仍然保持可信, 並沒有因此顯得不真實

中文翻譯:

> “At the same time, the ad mentioned practical features like comfort, battery life, and sound quality, so it still felt believable.”

「與此同時, 廣告亦提到了舒適度、電池續航力和音質等實際功能, 因此整體仍然令人覺得可信。」

Here:

still = 儘管存在前面所述的情況, 某個狀態依然繼續成立

1. still = continuing up to now/then (狀態／情況持續) — 仍然; 還是

This is the central adverb meaning.

Meaning: A situation that began earlier continues to be true at the time being discussed.

Practice 1

> “She still works at the same company.”

「她仍然在同一家公司工作。」

Practice 2

> “The café was still open when we arrived.”

「我們到達時，咖啡店仍然在營業。」 still = 某個較早已存在的狀態到現在／當時仍然持續，尚未改變或結束

2. still = despite that / nevertheless (前面有相反因素但狀態仍成立) — 仍然；儘管如此還是

This is the meaning in your original sentence.

Meaning: Used when something remains true despite a fact that might have caused you to expect otherwise.

Practice 3 — Original

> “The ad mentioned practical features, so it still felt believable.”

「廣告提到了實際功能，因此整體仍然保持可信。」

Practice 4

> “The headphones are expensive, but I still think they are good value.”

「這副耳機很昂貴，但我仍然認為它們物有所值。」

Practice 5

> “She was exhausted, but she still finished the report.”

「她已經很疲累，但儘管如此仍然完成了報告。」 still = 即使有某項因素似乎應該令結果改變，原本的行動、看法或狀態依然成立

This is closely related to #1, but the contrast is important.

3. still = even more / to an additional degree (比較級) — 更; 更加

Meaning: Used with comparatives to indicate an additional increase in degree.

Practice 6

> “The newer model is still better.”

「新型號更加好／又更進一步提升了。」

Practice 7

> “The second option is cheaper and still more practical.”

「第二個方案更便宜, 而且更加實用。」

still + comparative = 在已有的比較程度上再進一步增加; 更加.....

Common:

* still better = 更好

* still worse = 更差

* still more important = 更加重要

* still higher = 更高

4. still = not moving (人／物) — 靜止不動的

Here, still is an adjective.

Meaning: Not moving physically.

Practice 8

> “Please keep still while I take the photo.”

「我拍照時請保持不動。」

Practice 9

> “The animal stood completely still.”

「那隻動物站著，完全沒有移動。」 *still = 身體或物件停留在原來位置，沒有任何明顯動作

Common expression:

> stand/sit/lie still

> = 站著／坐著／躺著不動

5. *still = water/air/environment (海水／空氣／環境) without movement — 平靜無波的；沒有流動的

The same physical concept extends to air and water.

Practice 10

> “The lake was perfectly still.”

「湖面完全平靜，沒有波動。」

Practice 11

> “The air was hot and still.”

「空氣又熱又幾乎沒有流動／沒有風。」 *still water/air = 水面或空氣沒有明顯流動、波動或風的

I would group this with #4 conceptually:

> absence of movement

rather than pretend they are unrelated meanings.

6. *still = place/moment (環境／時刻) very quiet and calm — 寂靜的；安靜平和的

Meaning: Very quiet and calm, with little activity or disturbance.

Practice 12

> “The house was completely still in the middle of the night.”

「深夜時，整間房子寂靜無聲、沒有甚麼活動。」

Practice 13

> “For a moment, everything became still.”

「有一瞬間，一切都變得完全安靜平靜。」 *still = 環境中幾乎沒有聲音、活動或擾動，呈現寂靜平和的狀態

This combines the ideas of no movement + quietness.

7. *still water (飲料) not carbonated — 無氣的; 非碳酸的水

This is an important practical use, especially in British/European English.

Meaning: Water without carbonation or bubbles.

Practice 14

> “Would you like sparkling or still water?”

「你想要有氣水還是*無氣水／普通非碳酸水*？」

Practice 15

> “I ordered a bottle of still mineral water.”

「我點了一瓶*無氣礦泉水*。」 *still water = 沒有加入二氧化碳、不帶氣泡的水

Compare:

* still water = 無氣水

* sparkling water = 有氣水／氣泡水

This use grew from the idea of water being “not bubbling/moving,” but it is now an established beverage meaning.

8. still image / still photograph (影像) not moving — 靜態影像; 照片

Meaning: A single non-moving image, especially as opposed to video or moving film.

Practice 16

> “The report included several still images from the video.”

「報告加入了幾張從影片擷取的靜態影像。」

Practice 17

> “The website uses both video and still photographs.”

「網站同時使用影片和靜態照片。」 still image = 不會連續移動的單一影像, 與影片／動畫相對

9. a still = photograph taken from a film/video (電影／影片截圖) — 劇照; 影片靜態畫面

Here, still is a noun.

Practice 18

> “The magazine published several stills from the film.”

「雜誌刊登了幾張電影劇照。」

Practice 19

> “This still shows the actor standing by the window.”

「這張影片靜態畫面／劇照顯示演員站在窗邊。」

a still = 從電影、影片或拍攝作品中取得的一張靜態照片／畫面

10. still life (藝術) — 靜物畫; 靜物藝術

A useful family extension.

Meaning: Art depicting arrangements of non-living objects such as fruit, flowers, bottles, books, etc.

Practice 20

> “She painted a still life of flowers and fruit.”

「她畫了一幅以花和水果為題材的*靜物畫*。」

Practice 21

> “The exhibition includes several seventeenth-century still lifes.”

「這個展覽展出了幾幅十七世紀的*靜物畫作品*。」 still life = 以靜止不動的物件為主要題材的繪畫／藝術作品

11. *still + person/emotion/fear(使人／情緒停止激動) — 使平靜;使安靜下來***

Here, still is a verb.

Meaning: To make someone or something become quiet, calm, or motionless.

Practice 22

> “She took a deep breath to still her nerves.”

「她深呼吸, 讓自己緊張的情緒*平靜下來*。」

Practice 23

> “The teacher raised her hand to still the class.”

「老師舉起手, 讓全班*安靜下來*。」

still something/someone = 令原本有動作、聲音或情緒波動的人／事物逐漸平靜或停止

12. *still + doubts/fears/concerns(疑慮／恐懼／擔憂) — 平息;消除不安***

A figurative extension of the verb meaning.

Practice 24

> “The explanation helped still her fears.”

「這番解釋幫助平息了她的恐懼和不安。」

Practice 25

> “The new evidence did little to still public concern.”

「新證據並沒有多大作用去平息公眾的憂慮。」 still fears/concerns = 使原本強烈的恐懼、疑慮或不安逐漸平息

13. stillness = absence of movement (靜止) — 靜止狀態

Practice 26

> “The stillness of the lake was remarkable.”

「湖面的平靜無波／靜止狀態令人印象深刻。」

Practice 27

> “He remained in complete stillness.”

「他一直保持完全靜止不動的狀態。」 stillness = 完全或近乎沒有動作、移動或波動的狀態

14. stillness = deep quiet/calm (寂靜／平和) — 寧靜; 寂靜

Practice 28

> “She enjoyed the stillness of the early morning.”

「她很享受清晨的寧靜和寂靜。」

Practice 29

> “The headphones created a sense of stillness.”

「這副耳機營造出一種平靜安寧、幾乎沒有外界干擾的感覺。」 stillness = 缺乏聲音、活動和擾動所形成的寧靜狀態

15. a still = equipment for distilling liquids (蒸餾設備) — 蒸餾器; 蒸餾裝置

This is a genuinely separate noun meaning.

Meaning: Equipment used to heat and condense liquids during distillation.

Practice 30

> “The distillery uses a traditional copper still.”

「這間蒸餾廠使用傳統的銅製蒸餾器。」

Practice 31

> “The liquid is heated inside the still.”

「液體會在蒸餾裝置中加熱。」

a still = 利用加熱和冷凝把液體進行蒸餾分離的設備

This has no useful semantic connection for learners to still = 仍然／靜止, so it should be treated as a distinct noun sense.

Important distinction: still vs yet

They often overlap, but not perfectly.

still emphasizes that a situation continues

> “She is still working.”

「她仍然在工作。」

yet

often appears in questions and negatives about whether something has happened by now

> “Has she finished yet?”

「她已經完成了嗎？」

> “She hasn’t finished yet.”

「她還沒有完成。」

Compare:

> “She is still here.”

> = 她仍然在這裡。

> “She hasn’t left yet.”

> = 她還沒有離開。

Important distinction: still vs already

still

= something continues longer than or up to the current time

> “He is still asleep.”

「他仍然在睡。」 already

= something happened earlier than now, sometimes earlier than expected

> “He is already awake.”

「他已經醒了。」

They often point in opposite temporal directions.

Important distinction: still vs nevertheless

In contrastive contexts, they can overlap.

> “It was expensive, but I still bought it.”

「它很昂貴，但我還是買了。」

> “It was expensive. Nevertheless, I bought it.”

「它很昂貴。儘管如此，我還是買了。」

still is much more natural and conversational inside the sentence.

nevertheless is more formal.

Important distinction: still vs quiet

quiet

= not making much sound

still

= not moving, and sometimes consequently very quiet/calm

> “Please be quiet.”

= 請不要發出聲音。

> “Please keep still.”

= 請不要移動。

A person can be:

quiet but not still

= 沒有說話，但一直在動

or:

still but not quiet

= 身體不動, 但可能仍在說話

Important distinction: still vs motionless

still

Common, broad, natural.

motionless

Specifically means completely without physical movement and is more descriptive/formal.

> “He stood still.”

「他站著不動。」

> “He lay motionless.”

「他躺著完全沒有動。」

Important distinction: still vs silent

still

can include both physical calm and quietness.

silent

specifically means producing no sound.

> “The room was still.”

= 房間寧靜, 沒有甚麼活動。

> “The room was silent.”

= 房間完全沒有聲音。

Important word-order note: still

For the “仍然” meaning, still normally appears:

Before an ordinary verb:

> “I still remember it.”

After be:

> “She is still tired.”

After the first auxiliary:

> “He has still not replied.”

But in natural modern English, you may also commonly see:

> “He still hasn't replied.”

Both patterns occur, with slightly different emphasis.

Family-extension note

Following our Golden Manual, useful members/extensions include:

- * still = still continuing = 仍然
- * still = nevertheless = 儘管如此仍然
- * still + comparative = 更加
- * keep/stand/sit still = 保持不動
- * still water — motionless = 平靜無波的水
- * still water — beverage = 無氣水
- * still image = 靜態影像
- * film still = 電影劇照
- * still life = 靜物畫
- * still fears/nerves = 平息恐懼／緊張
- * stillness = 靜止；寧靜
- * a still — distillation = 蒸餾器

So this is definitely a word where there are multiple genuinely useful senses, rather than just one core meaning with trivial contextual variation.

For your original sentence

> “At the same time, the ad mentioned practical features like comfort, battery life, and sound quality, so it still felt believable.”

The exact meaning is:

*still = 儘管廣告同時在營造情感和生活方式上的吸引力, 它依然保持可信, 沒有因此顯得空洞或誇張

So:

> it still felt believable

= 它仍然令人覺得可信／儘管如此, 它還是讓人覺得很可信。
