

Word family: give / gives / gave / given / giving / giver / giveaway

Base word: give

Third-person singular: gives

Past tense: gave

Past participle: given

 -ing form: giving

Related forms: giver, giveaway

Useful constructions/extensions: give something to someone, give someone something, give a presentation/speech, give advice, give permission, give support, give someone a chance, give an example, give an answer, give a reason, give a smile/look, give a warning, give someone a call, give birth, give way, give off, give out, give in, give up, given + noun, be given to understand, giveaway, give-and-take Part of speech: mainly verb (動詞) / adjective-participle uses with given (過去分詞 / 形容詞相關用法) / noun-related extensions (相關名詞)

Your passage contains:

> “One of the most challenging things I have ever done was giving a formal presentation in English at a company event last year.”

Here, give does not mean physically handing an object to another person.

It means:

to deliver or perform a presentation, speech, talk, or similar piece of spoken communication before an audience.

Meaning in this passage

> “One of the most challenging things I have ever done was giving a formal presentation in English...”

Here:

give a presentation = 向觀眾正式作出 / 進行一場簡報

Meaning: To present spoken information formally to an audience.

繁體中文: 向一群聽眾正式講解、展示或報告某個主題 / 項目

中文翻譯:

> “One of the most challenging things I have ever done was giving a formal presentation in English at a company event last year.”

「我做過其中一件最具挑戰性的事情，就是去年在一個公司活動上用英文作正式簡報。」

So:

give a presentation = 作簡報 / 進行簡報

This is an important collocational meaning of give.

1. give + thing + to + person / give + person + thing (物品) — 給；交給；送給

This is the basic concrete meaning.

Meaning: To transfer possession of something to another person.

Practice 1

> “She gave me the report before the meeting.”

「她在會議前把報告給了我。」

Practice 2

> “He gave the keys to his colleague.”

「他把鎖匙交給了同事。」

give someone something / give something to someone = 把某件物品交給另一個人，使對方得到它

Common patterns:

* give me the file

* give the file to me

* give someone a gift

* give someone money

2. give = provide something that is not necessarily physical (提供) — 提供；給予

This is a broader abstract extension of the basic transfer meaning.

Practice 3

> “The company gave us more information about the project.”

「公司向我們提供了更多資料。」

Practice 4

> “The training gave employees useful skills.”

「這次培訓讓員工獲得了實用技能。」 give = 使某人得到某種資料、機會、能力、資源或其他非實體事物

This broad abstract-transfer sense produces many very common constructions.

This fixed expression has several important meanings.

A. Traffic

> “Drivers must give way to pedestrians.”

「駕駛者必須讓路給行人。」

B. Yield socially

> “Neither side was willing to give way.”

「雙方都不願意讓步。」

C. Collapse structurally

> “The old floor gave way under his weight.”

「舊地板承受不住他的重量而塌了下去。」

These are related through the broad idea of ceasing to resist or support, but the contextual meanings differ substantially.

23. give = bend/yield under pressure (物料可彎曲 / 有彈性) — 有彈性；會讓位

This is a genuinely distinct physical sense.

Practice 44

> “The material has a little give.”

「這種物料有一點彈性 / 可伸縮性。」

Practice 45

> “The seat should give slightly when you sit down.”

「坐下時，座椅應該會稍微下沉 / 有彈性地讓位。」

Here give can be a noun or verb.

give = 在受力時稍微彎曲、伸展或移動，而不是完全堅硬不動

24. give a performance/show (表演) — 演出；作出表現

Practice 46

> “The band gave a brilliant performance.”

「樂隊帶來了一場精彩演出。」

Practice 47

> “She gave a confident performance in the final presentation.”

「她在最後的簡報中表現得很有自信。」 give a performance = 進行或呈現一場表演 / 正式表現

This is conceptually close to give a presentation, but broader.

25. give = communicate a particular impression (給人某種感覺 / 印象) — 給人.....的感覺

Practice 48

> “The design gives an impression of simplicity.”

「這個設計給人簡潔的印象。」

Practice 49

> “His voice gave me the impression that he was nervous.”

「他的聲音令我覺得他很緊張。」 give an impression = 使別人形成某種感覺或判斷

Common:

* give the impression that...

* give a sense of...

* give the appearance of...

26. give someone something to think about (令人思考) — 引發思考

28. give someone a break (讓某人休息 / 通融) — 給休息；放寬要求

This fixed expression has two especially common meanings.

A. Rest

> “Let’s give everyone a break after the presentation.”

「簡報後讓大家休息一下吧。」

B. Be less harsh / allow leniency

> “She made one small mistake—give her a break.”

「她只是犯了一個小錯，別對她那麼苛刻 / 放她一馬吧。」 give someone a break = 讓某人休息，或在批評 / 要求上對某人寬鬆一點

29. give someone a hand (幫忙) — 幫助

A very common idiom.

Practice 54

> “Could you give me a hand with these slides?”

「你可以幫我一下處理這些投影片嗎？」

Practice 55

> “Two colleagues gave me a hand with the equipment.”

「兩位同事幫我處理了器材。」 give someone a hand = 幫助某人完成某件事

Do not confuse this with:

> give someone a hand = applaud someone in contexts such as:

> “Let’s give her a hand!”

= 「大家為她鼓掌吧！」

The phrase itself can therefore be polysemous.

30. give someone a hand = applaud (鼓掌) — 為某人鼓掌

Practice 56

> “Let’s give our speaker a hand.”

「讓我們為講者鼓掌。」

Practice 57

> “The audience gave him a big hand at the end.”

「觀眾在最後熱烈為他鼓掌。」

give someone a hand = 以鼓掌方式表示支持或讚賞

Context distinguishes:

* help;
* applause.

31. give someone your word (承諾) — 向某人保證

Practice 58

> “I give you my word that I’ll finish it today.”

「我向你保證今天一定完成。」

Practice 59

「這項決定引起了多宗投訴。」

Practice 67

> “Poor communication can give rise to misunderstandings.”

「溝通不足可能會導致誤解。」

give rise to = 令某件事情產生、出現或發展出來

This is especially common in formal and academic writing.

36. given = considering / taking into account (鑑於 ; 考慮到) — 鑑於 ; 考慮到

Given has developed an important preposition-like use.

Practice 68

> “Given the size of the audience, it was natural to feel nervous.”

「考慮到 / 鑑於觀眾人數很多，感到緊張很正常。」

Practice 69

> “Given his experience, he handled the situation well.”

「考慮到他的經驗，他把情況處理得很好。」 given + noun/clause = 考慮到某個已知事實或情況

This is no longer simply the ordinary past participle meaning “被給予”.

37. given = specified / particular (指定的 ; 既定的) — 指定的 ; 已知的

A common adjective-like use.

Practice 70

> “The task must be completed within the given time.”

「任務必須在指定時間內完成。」

「禮物的意義有時取決於送禮者和接受者。」

Practice 75

> “She has always been a generous giver.”

「她一向都是一個很慷慨的給予者 / 樂於付出的人。」 giver = 把物品、金錢、幫助或其他東西給予別人的人

40. giveaway = something given free (贈品) — 免費贈品

A useful lexicalized family extension.

Practice 76

> “The company offered a free giveaway at the event.”

「公司在活動上提供了免費贈品。」

Practice 77

> “Promotional giveaways attracted more visitors to the booth.”

「宣傳贈品吸引了更多人到攤位。」 giveaway = 商戶或機構免費送出的宣傳品 / 禮物

41. giveaway = clue that reveals something (破綻 / 明顯線索) — 洩露真相的線索

A genuinely different noun meaning.

Practice 78

> “His nervous expression was a clear giveaway.”

「他緊張的表情是一個很明顯的破綻 / 洩露真相的線索。」

Practice 79

> “The spelling mistakes were a giveaway that the message was fake.”

「那些拼寫錯誤是顯示訊息造假的明顯破綻。」

「成功的團隊合作需要一定程度的互相遷就和讓步。」

Practice 81

> “Good discussions involve plenty of give-and-take.”

「良好的討論需要有充分的雙向交流和互相回應。」 give-and-take = 雙方都願意交換意見、作出讓步或互相配合

Important distinction: give vs give away

give

= transfer something to another person

> “She gave me the book.”

「她把書*給了我*。」

give away

can mean:

1. give something free;
2. reveal a secret;
3. expose someone unintentionally.

Because give away is a phrasal verb, it normally belongs outside the core bare-give analysis under the no-phrasal-verbs-by-default rule.

However, giveaway as a lexicalized noun is useful enough to include as a family extension.

Important distinction: give vs provide

They overlap.

is extremely common and broad:

> “She gave me some advice.”

provide often sounds more formal and focuses on supplying something needed:

> “The company provided employees with training.”

So:

*give = 日常而廣泛地給予 / 提供

*provide = 較正式地供應某人所需的東西、服務或資源

Important distinction: give vs offer

give normally implies the recipient actually receives something:

> “She gave me help.”

offer

means make something available for acceptance:

> “She offered me help.”

I may accept or refuse it.

Compare:

> “They offered me a job.”

= 他們提出聘請我。

> “They gave me the job.”

= 他們最後真的把那份工作給了我 / 聘用了我。

So:

offer = 提出可以給

give = 實際給予 / 使對方獲得

Important distinction: give a presentation vs make a presentation

Both can occur, but they are not always identical in emphasis.

give a presentation

most naturally means:

deliver it to an audience

> “I’m giving a presentation tomorrow.”

「我明天要作簡報。」

make a presentation

can sometimes mean deliver a presentation too, especially in some varieties of English, but it may also suggest creating/preparing one depending on context.

For learners, when the meaning is:

> stand in front of people and present give a presentation is a very safe and natural collocation.

Important distinction: give advice vs advise advice

noun

> “She gave me advice.”

「她給我建議。」 advise verb

> “She advised me to practise.”

「她建議我練習。」

Not:

> ❌ give me an advice

Normally:

> ✅ give me some advice

because advice is usually uncountable.

Important distinction: give someone confidence vs make someone confident

These overlap but use different grammar.

give someone confidence

> “Practice gave me confidence.”

= 練習給了我信心 / 令我有信心。

make someone confident

> “Practice made me more confident.”

= 練習令我更有自信。

The first conceptualizes confidence as something acquired.

The second directly describes a change in the person's state.

Important distinction: given = past participle vs given = considering

Past participle:

> “I was given an opportunity.”

= 我獲得 / 被給予一個機會。

Preposition-like use:

> “Given the circumstances, I understood his decision.”

= 鑑於 / 考慮到當時的情況，我明白他的決定。

These are very different functions despite identical spelling.

Family-extension sweep

The practical give family is extremely rich.

Useful core and extended items include:

* give something to someone = 把某物給某人

* give someone something = 給予某人物品 / 抽象事物

* give a presentation/speech/talk = 作簡報 / 演講
 * give advice/information/instructions = 提供建議 / 資料 / 指示
 * give an answer/reason/example = 作答 / 提出理由 / 舉例
 * give permission/approval = 批准 / 准許
 * give support/help = 給予支持 / 幫助
 * give someone a chance = 給某人機會
 * give someone time/space = 給某人時間 / 空間
 * give confidence/hope/courage = 帶來信心 / 希望 / 勇氣
 * give trouble/a problem = 帶來麻煩 / 造成問題
 * give a smile/look/nod = 作出微笑 / 眼神 / 點頭
 * give a warning/order = 發出警告 / 命令
 * give someone a call = 打電話給某人
 * give thought/attention/consideration = 花心思 / 注意 / 考慮
 * give priority to = 優先處理
 * give access/control/responsibility = 授予權限 / 責任 * give a score/grade = 評分
 * give a name/title = 命名
 * give something meaning/value = 賦予意義 / 價值
 * give birth = 生育 ; 產生
 * give way = 讓路 ; 讓步 ; 塌下
 * give — physical flexibility = 有彈性 / 會讓位
 * give a performance = 演出 / 呈現表現
 * give an impression = 給人印象
 * give someone credit = 給予肯定 / 歸功
 * give someone a break = 讓某人休息 / 放寬要求
 * give someone a hand = 幫忙 / 鼓掌
 * give someone your word = 作出保證
 * give thanks = 表達感謝
 * give evidence/testimony = 作供 / 提供證據
 * give notice = 正式通知
 * give rise to = 導致 / 引起
 * given = considering = 鑑於 / 考慮到 * given = specified = 指定的 / 已知的 * giver = 給予者
 * giveaway — free item = 贈品
 * giveaway — revealing clue = 破綻 / 明顯線索
 * give-and-take = 互相讓步 / 雙向交流

Under the no-phrasal-verbs-by-default rule, I would not expand the full families of:

* give up
 * give in
 * give out
 * give off
 * give away
 * give back

unless they become direct targets later.

For your original passage

> “One of the most challenging things I have ever done was giving a formal presentation in English at a company event last year.”

The exact meaning is:

give = 正式向一群聽眾呈現、講解或報告準備好的內容

Therefore:

> give a formal presentation

= 「作一場正式簡報 / 向聽眾正式進行簡報」

The word give here does not mean:

> 把一件東西交給某人

Instead, English conceptualizes a presentation, speech, talk, lecture, etc. as something the speaker delivers to an audience.

So the core mapping in your passage is:

give a presentation = 向觀眾正式作出 / 進行一場簡報

This is especially useful for learners because Chinese 「做簡報」 may tempt them to translate directly with do, but standard English normally prefers:

>  give a presentation

rather than:

>  do a presentation

when the intended meaning is deliver the presentation to an audience.
