

Absolutely — I'll skip that item and proceed with think.

Word family: think / thinks / thought / thinking / thinker / thoughtful / thoughtfully / thoughtless / thoughtlessly

Base word: think

Past tense: thought

Past participle: thought

Related forms: thinking, thought, thinker, thoughtful, thoughtfully, thoughtless, thoughtlessly

Useful expressions / extensions: think about, think of, think that, think so, think highly of, think twice, on second thought, give something some thought

Part of speech: mainly verb (動詞) / noun and adjective family (相關名詞及形容詞)

Your sentence:

> "As for what other people think of her, she is widely respected in my family and even in the neighbourhood."

Meaning in this passage

Here, think of someone means to have a particular opinion, judgment, or impression of that person.

The sentence is asking:

> what opinion do other people have of her?

The answer is that they regard her positively and respect her.

繁體中文： 對某人抱有某種看法、評價或印象；認為某人是怎樣的人

中文翻譯：

> "As for what other people think of her..."

「至於其他人怎樣看她 / 對她有甚麼看法.....」

Here:

think of someone = 對某人有某種評價、印象或看法

1. think of + person (對某人的看法) — 認為；看待；評價

This is the exact sense in your passage.

Practice 1 — Original

> “As for what other people think of her...”

「至於其他人怎樣看她 / 對她有甚麼看法.....」

Practice 2

> “What do you think of the new teacher?”

「你覺得 / 怎樣看那位新老師？」

Practice 3

> “Most people think highly of her.”

「大部分人都很欣賞 / 對她評價很高。」 think of someone = 對某人的性格、能力、行為或整體形象形成某種評價

2. think + that-clause (認為某件事) — 認為 ; 覺得

A major core meaning.

Practice 4

> “I think that she is very patient.”

「我覺得 / 認為她很有耐性。」

Practice 5

> “They think the plan will work.”

「他們認為這個計劃會成功。」

think (that) + clause = 根據自己的判斷、觀點或印象認為某件事是真實或可能的

The word that is often omitted:

> “I think she is right.”

3. think = have an opinion / believe (持有看法) — 認為 ; 覺得

Practice 6

> “What do you think?”

「你怎麼想 / 有甚麼看法？」

Practice 7

> “I think this is the better option.”

「我認為這是較好的選擇。」 think = 對某件事形成並表達自己的意見或判斷

4. think about + topic/problem (思考) — 思考 ; 考慮

A very important meaning.

Practice 8

> “I need some time to think about the problem.”

「我需要一些時間思考這個問題。」

Practice 9

> “She is thinking about changing jobs.”

「她正在考慮轉工。」

think about something = 把注意力放在某件事上 , 認真考慮其細節、可能性或後果

5. think of + idea/solution (想到) — 想到 ; 想出

This differs importantly from your original think of someone = opinion.

Practice 10

> “Can you think of a solution?”

「你能不能想到一個解決方法？」

Practice 11

> “She quickly thought of another idea.”

「她很快便想到另一個想法。」

think of something = 在腦中產生某個想法、答案、例子或解決方法

6. think of + person/thing (想起) — 想到；想起

Another very common use of the same construction.

Practice 12

> “This song makes me think of my grandmother.”

「這首歌令我想起外婆。」

Practice 13

> “I often think of my childhood.”

「我經常想起自己的童年。」

think of someone/something = 某人 / 某事物出現在自己的思想或記憶中

So think of has several important branches:

- * opinion of someone
- * generate an idea
- * remember/bring to mind

Context determines the meaning.

7. think about + person/event (想著 / 思念) — 想著；思考

Practice 14

> “I was thinking about my grandmother yesterday.”

「我昨天一直想著外婆。」

Practice 15

> “She spent the evening thinking about what had happened.”

「她整個晚上都在想著 / 思考發生過的事情。」 think about = 持續把注意力或思想放在某個人、事件或問題上

Compared with think of, think about often suggests longer or more deliberate mental attention.

8. think of doing something (考慮做.....) — 想過 ; 考慮

Practice 16

> “Have you ever thought of moving abroad?”

「你有沒有想過搬到外國？」

Practice 17

> “She is thinking of taking a short break.”

「她正在考慮休息一段短時間。」 think of doing something = 考慮某個可能行動，尤其把它當成一個選項

9. think about doing something (認真考慮做.....) — 考慮

Practice 18

「我正在考慮學另一種語言。」

Practice 19

> “They are thinking about moving closer to their family.”

「他們正在考慮搬到離家人更近的地方。」 think about doing something = 花時間考慮是否採取某項行動

This often sounds slightly more deliberate than think of doing.

10. think = use the mind to reason (動腦思考) — 思考 ; 動腦筋

Practice 20

> “Stop and think before you answer.”

「回答之前先停下來*想一想*。」

Practice 21

> “You need to think carefully.”

「你需要仔細*思考*。」 think = 使用頭腦進行推理、判斷、分析或解決問題

This is the broad mental-process sense.

11. think carefully / clearly / logically (思考方式) — 仔細 / 清楚 / 合乎邏輯地思考

Practice 22

> “She always thinks carefully before making a decision.”

「她作決定前總會*仔細思考*。」

Practice 23

> “It was difficult to think clearly under pressure.”

「在壓力下很難*清楚思考*。」 think + adverb = 以某種方式進行思考、分析或判斷

12. think = expect / suppose (估計 ; 料想) — 想 ; 估計

Sometimes think expresses uncertainty rather than a firm opinion.

Practice 24

> “I think she’ll arrive around six.”

「我估計 / 想她大概六點到。」

Practice 25

> “I think we have enough time.”

「我想 / 估計我們有足夠時間。」 think = 根據現有資料作出並不完全確定的估計或推測

13. I think = soften an opinion (緩和語氣) — 我覺得 ; 我想

A very common discourse function.

Practice 26

> “I think we should leave now.”

「我覺得我們現在應該離開。」

Practice 27

> “I think this version is clearer.”

「我覺得這個版本比較清楚。」

I think = 在表達意見或建議時降低語氣的絕對程度，使說法較柔和

This is extremely common in spoken English.

14. do you think...? (徵詢意見 / 推測) — 你覺得.....嗎？

Practice 28

> “Do you think she will come?”

「你覺得她會來嗎？」

Practice 29

> “What do you think we should do?”

「你覺得我們應該怎樣做？」

do you think...? = 詢問對方的意見、判斷或推測

15. think so = 認為是這樣；我想是

A very common substitute expression.

Practice 30

> “Do you think she is coming?”

> “I think so.”

「你覺得她會來嗎？」

「我想是的。」

Practice 31

> “Will it work?”

> “I think so.”

「它會有效嗎？」

「我想會。」

think so = 用 so 代替前面已提到的肯定內容，表示自己認為那件事是真的

16. don't think so = 我想不是；我不這樣認為

Practice 32

> “Is she angry?”

> “I don't think so.”

「她生氣了嗎？」

「我想不是 / 我不覺得是。」

Practice 33

> “Will they cancel the event?”

> “I don't think so.”

「他們會取消活動嗎？」

「我想不會。」

don't think so = 表示自己認為前面的說法不成立或不太可能

17. think highly/well of + person (評價很高) — 很欣賞；高度評價

Practice 34

> “Her neighbours think highly of her.”

「鄰居們都很欣賞她 / 對她評價很高。」

Practice 35

> “The manager thinks very highly of his work.”

「經理對他的工作評價非常高。」

think highly of someone/something = 對某人 / 某事物有很好的評價和尊重

This is especially relevant to your original passage because the grandmother is:

> widely respected.

18. think little/poorly of + person/thing (評價低) — 不太看得起；評價不高

Practice 36

> “She thought poorly of his behaviour.”

「他對他的行為評價很差。」

Practice 37

> “They think little of the proposal.”

「他們對這項提案評價不高。」

think poorly/little of = 對某人 / 某事物抱有負面或較低的評價

Register varies; think poorly of is clearer for learners.

19. think of someone as + noun/adjective (視某人為.....) — 把.....視為；認為.....是

Practice 38

> “I think of her as a second mother.”

「我把她視為自己的第二個媽媽。」

「高昂的價格令我重新考慮 / 三思。」 think twice = 在行動前重新認真考慮，通常因為可能有風險、問題或後果

21. think again — 再想清楚；重新考慮

Practice 42

> “If you think this will be easy, think again.”

「如果你以為這會很容易，那就再想清楚吧。」

Practice 43

> “She thought again and decided not to go.”

「她重新考慮後，決定不去了。」 think again = 重新考慮原本的想法或假設，可能改變判斷

22. on second thought — 再想一想後；轉念一想

A very useful fixed expression.

Practice 44

> “On second thought, I’ll stay home.”

「再想一想後 / 轉念一想，我還是留在家吧。」

Practice 45

> “I was going to call her later, but on second thought, I’ll call now.”

「我本來打算稍後才打電話給她，但再想想，我現在就打。」 on second thought = 再次考慮後，改變或修正原本的決定 / 想法

23. give something some thought — 考慮一下某事

Practice 46

> “Give the idea some thought before deciding.”

「作決定前先好好考慮一下這個想法。」

Practice 47

Practice 73

> “One thoughtless action caused a serious problem.”

「一個未經思考的行動造成了嚴重問題。」 thoughtless = 沒有經過足夠思考便做出的

This is related to, but not identical with, “inconsiderate.”

Important distinction: think of vs think about

This is crucial.

think of someone/something

can mean:

- * have an opinion of

- * remember

- * generate an idea

> “What do you think of her?”

= 你怎樣看她？

> “I thought of my grandmother.”

= 我想起外婆。

> “I thought of a solution.”

= 我想到一個解決辦法。 think about someone/something usually means:

> spend time considering or mentally focusing on them.

> “I was thinking about my grandmother.”

= 我一直在想著外婆。

So think of is much more polysemous.

Important distinction: think vs believe

think often sounds less certain and more opinion-based.

> “I think she is right.”

believe

can express stronger conviction or acceptance that something is true.

> “I believe she is telling the truth.”

= 我相信她說的是事實。

They overlap, but think is extremely common for ordinary opinions.

Important distinction: think vs know

think

= opinion, judgment, or uncertain belief.

> “I think she is at home.”

know

= possess information or certainty.

> “I know she is at home.”

So:

think = 我認為 / 我估計

know = 我知道

The certainty level is different.

Important distinction: think vs feel

Both can introduce opinions.

I think often presents a reasoned or general opinion.

I feel

can emphasize:

- * personal reaction
- * intuition
- * emotional response

> “I think the plan is too expensive.”

= 我認為計劃太貴。

> “I feel the plan is unfair.”

= 我覺得 / 感覺計劃不公平。

The distinction is not absolute, but the nuance differs.

Important distinction: think of someone vs think about someone

What do you think of her?

= What is your opinion of her?

「你怎樣看她？」

Do you think about her?

= Does she occupy your thoughts?

「你會想起 / 想著她嗎？」

This distinction is central to your passage.

Important distinction: think of vs think up

think of an idea

= 想到一個主意

think up an idea

= 想出 / 構思出一個主意

Think up emphasizes creating/inventing the idea.

Under the no-phrasal-verbs-by-default rule, it is secondary, but useful for contrast.

Important distinction: think so vs know so

I think so.

= 我想是。

There is some uncertainty.

I know so.

is much less common as a simple response and implies certainty.

Usually English instead says:

> "I know."

So think so is especially common when the speaker is not completely certain.

Important distinction: thoughtful vs thoughtful

This single adjective has two important meanings.

thoughtful person/action

= considerate of others

「體貼的」

thoughtful answer/article

= showing careful thinking

「深思熟慮的」

These share the underlying idea of giving thought, but learners need distinct Chinese meanings.

Important distinction: thoughtful vs thoughtless thoughtful

= considers others / thinks carefully thoughtless

= fails to consider others or acts without thinking

> “a thoughtful gift”

= 體貼用心的禮物

> “a thoughtless remark”

= 不顧別人感受的說話

Important distinction: thought vs idea

idea

often means a specific concept, suggestion, or plan.

thought

can be:

* an idea

* an opinion

* a mental process

* attention/care

> “I had an idea.”

often suggests a possible solution or proposal.

> “A thought crossed my mind.”

suggests a mental notion appearing.

Important distinction: thought vs opinion

opinion

= a person's judgment or view about something.

thought

is broader and can mean:

- * idea
- * reflection
- * opinion
- * mental process

> “What are your thoughts on this?”

can mean:

> “What are your opinions/ideas about this?”

Family-extension note

Following the reference curation style, these are especially useful members and constructions of the think family:

- * think of someone — opinion = 對某人的看法 / 評價 * school of thought = 思想流派

 * train of thought = 思路
 * food for thought = 值得思考的事情
 * thinker = 思想家 / 思考型的人
 * thoughtful — considerate = 體貼的
 * thoughtful — reflective = 深思熟慮的
 * thoughtlessly = 欠考慮地 / 不顧別人感受地
 * thoughtless = 不體貼的 / 未經思考的

As in the reference examples, these include genuine lexical meanings, grammatical constructions, fixed expressions, discourse functions, and useful related forms. They should be included for practical learning value while still distinguishing the base word from family extensions.

For your original sentence

> “As for what other people think of her, she is widely respected in my family and even in the neighbourhood.”

The exact meaning is:

think of someone = 對某人有某種看法、評價或整體印象

Therefore:

> what other people think of her

= 「其他人怎樣看她 / 對她有甚麼評價」

The answer given immediately afterward is:

> she is widely respected.

So in this passage, think is specifically about other people's opinion and evaluation of your grandmother, not the act of carefully thinking about her.

That distinction is central:

> What do you think of her?

> = 你對她有甚麼看法？ while:

> Do you think about her?

> = 你會想著她嗎？

Same family, but a very different meaning.
