

Absolutely — reward is a strong target because your passage uses it as an abstract noun:

> “She also loves the sense of reward that comes with it.”

Here reward means the feeling of satisfaction or benefit you get from effort, but the word also covers money/prizes given for achievement, payment for information, consequences of behaviour, and the verb reward.

Word family: reward / rewarded / rewarding / unrewarding

Base word: reward

Verb forms: reward, rewards, rewarded, rewarding

Related forms: rewarding, unrewarding

Useful compounds / expressions: financial reward, cash reward, reward system, reward points

Part of speech: noun (名詞) / verb (動詞) / adjective-related forms (相關形容詞)

Your sentence:

> “She also loves the sense of reward that comes with it.”

Meaning in your passage: reward = satisfaction/benefit gained from effort — 回報感；成就感；滿足感

Here reward does not mean a prize someone hands her.

It means:

> the positive feeling or benefit she gets because her patience and effort produce a good result.

繁體中文：

因付出努力、耐性或時間而得到成果時所產生的回報感、成就感或滿足感

Natural translation:

> “She also loves the sense of reward that comes with it.”

「她也很喜歡園藝帶來的那種回報感 / 成就感。」

So here:

> sense of reward = 因努力有成果而產生的成就感與滿足感

1. reward = something given for achievement/effort (獎勵) — 獎勵 ; 獎賞

The core noun meaning.

Practice 1

> “The children received a small reward for finishing the task.”

「孩子們完成任務後得到了一份小獎勵。」

Practice 2

> “Hard work does not always bring an immediate reward.”

「努力不一定總會立即帶來回報 / 獎賞。」 reward = 因某人完成某事、表現良好或付出努力而給予的好處、獎品或利益

2. reward = positive result/benefit of effort (回報) — 回報 ; 成果 ; 好處

This is your exact conceptual sense.

Practice 3 — Original

> “She loves the sense of reward that comes with gardening.”

「她很喜歡園藝帶來的回報感 / 成就感。」

Practice 4

> “Seeing the plants grow is the greatest reward.”

「看到植物成長就是最大的回報。」

Practice 5

> “The rewards of learning a language can last a lifetime.”

「學習語言帶來的好處 / 回報可以受用一生。」 reward = 某種努力、選擇或經歷所帶來的正面結果、好處或滿足

This is broader than a formal prize.

3. reward = money offered for information/help (懸賞金) — 懸賞 ; 賞金

A genuinely distinct practical meaning.

Practice 6

> “The police offered a reward for information.”

「警方提供懸賞金，徵求線索。」

Practice 7

> “A cash reward was offered for the return of the missing dog.”

「有人懸賞現金，希望找回失蹤的狗。」

reward = 為取得資料、找回失物、協助破案等而預先承諾給予的金錢

Common:

* cash reward

* offer a reward

* reward for information

4. reward = benefit resulting from behaviour (結果 / 誘因) — 獎勵結果 ; 正向回饋

Common in psychology, education, and behaviour training.

Practice 8

> “The teacher used praise as a reward.”

「老師把讚賞當作一種獎勵。」

Practice 9

> “The dog learned the behaviour because it received a reward.”

「那隻狗因為得到獎勵而學會了這個行為。」 reward — behavioural = 用來增加某種行為再次出現可能性的正面結果或刺激

This is a more technical branch of the general “benefit given after behaviour” sense.

5. reward = verb, give something for effort/achievement — 獎勵；報答

Now reward is a verb.

Practice 10

> “The company rewarded employees for their hard work.”

「公司因員工努力工作而獎勵他們。」

Practice 11

> “She rewarded herself with a quiet afternoon.”

「她用一個悠閒的下午來獎勵自己。」

reward someone for something = 因某人的努力、行為或成果而給予好處、獎品或肯定

6. reward + behaviour/quality (回報) — 對.....給予正面回報

A broader verb use.

Practice 12

> “The system rewards patience.”

「這個制度會回報 / 獎勵有耐性的人。」

Practice 13

> “Gardening often rewards careful attention.”

「細心照料植物往往會得到園藝上的回報。」 reward = 某種制度、活動或情況使某種行為 / 品質帶來好結果

Here the subject need not be a person.

7. rewarding = giving satisfaction or benefit — 有回報的；令人滿足的；有成就感的

A very important related adjective.

Practice 14

> “Gardening can be very rewarding.”

「園藝可以非常有成就感 / 很有回報。」

Practice 15

> “Teaching is difficult but rewarding.”

「教學雖然困難，但也很有滿足感 / 很值得。」 rewarding = 因付出後能得到成就感、滿足感或有價值成果而令人覺得值得的

8. rewarding = beneficial/profitable (有益 / 有利) — 有益的；帶來好處的

A contextual branch of #7.

Practice 16

> “It was a financially rewarding investment.”

「那是一項在財務上回報豐厚的投資。」

Practice 17

> “The experience was intellectually rewarding.”

「那次經歷在知識層面上很有收穫。」 rewarding = 能帶來某種具體或抽象利益、收穫的

Natural Chinese depends on context:

* financially rewarding = 回報豐厚的

* emotionally rewarding = 情感上令人滿足的

* intellectually rewarding = 很有知識收穫的

9. unrewarding = giving little satisfaction/benefit — 缺乏回報的；令人沒有滿足感的

Practice 18

> “The work was repetitive and unrewarding.”

「那份工作重複而且沒有甚麼成就感 / 缺乏回報。」

Practice 19

> “He found the routine increasingly unrewarding.”

「他愈來愈覺得這種例行工作沒有滿足感。」 unrewarding = 付出後很少得到滿足、成就、利益或價值感的

10. financial reward (工作 / 商業) — 金錢回報；經濟報酬

Practice 20

> “Some people value meaning more than financial reward.”

「有些人重視意義多於金錢回報。」

Practice 21

> “The job offers significant financial rewards.”

「這份工作提供可觀的經濟回報。」 financial reward = 因工作、投資或表現而得到的金錢利益

11. reward system (制度) — 獎勵制度；獎賞機制

Practice 22

> “The school introduced a new reward system.”

「學校推出了一套新的獎勵制度。」

Practice 23

> “A good reward system should encourage positive behaviour.”

「良好的獎勵機制應能鼓勵正面行為。」 reward system = 用獎品、分數、待遇或其他好處來鼓勵某種行為 / 表現的制度

12. reward points (消費 / 會員制度) — 積分 ; 獎賞積分

Practice 24

> “You earn reward points every time you shop.”

「你每次購物都可以賺取獎賞積分。」

Practice 25

> “Customers can exchange reward points for discounts.”

「顧客可以用積分換取折扣。」

reward points = 消費 / 會員計劃中因購買或活動而累積、之後可兌換優惠的積分

Important distinction: reward vs award

This is a very important learner contrast.

reward

given because of:

- * effort
- * behaviour
- * helpful action
- * achievement
- * return of something award

usually an officially judged prize/honour.

> “She received a reward for returning the wallet.”

「她因歸還銀包而得到獎勵。」

> “She won an award for best actress.”

「她獲得最佳女演員獎。」

So:

reward = 對行為 / 付出的回報

award = 經評選授予的獎項

Important distinction: reward vs prize

prize

something won in a competition, contest, lottery, etc.

reward

broader:

something given in return for effort, behaviour, information, etc.

> first prize

> = 一等獎

> cash reward for information

> = 線索懸賞金

Important distinction: reward vs salary

salary

regular payment for employment.

reward

something received because of achievement, effort, or positive result.

Your monthly salary is not normally called a reward, although:

> financial rewards of a career can include salary, bonuses, etc.

Important distinction: reward vs return

reward

often emphasizes benefit obtained because of effort/behaviour.

return

in finance/business often means profit/yield on money invested.

> reward for hard work

> = 努力的回報

> return on investment

> = 投資回報

They overlap in Chinese as 「回報」 but are not interchangeable everywhere.

Important distinction: reward vs benefit

benefit

any advantage or positive effect.

reward

often has a stronger idea of:

> something gained after effort, behaviour, or sacrifice.

> health benefits of exercise

> = 運動的健康益處

> reward of completing a difficult project

> = 完成困難項目後的回報 / 成就感

Important distinction: reward vs satisfaction

Your source is particularly useful here.

reward

the positive result/benefit.

satisfaction

the pleasant feeling that something has gone well or fulfilled you.

> “The reward was seeing the plants grow.”

= 回報是看到植物成長。

> “She felt great satisfaction.”

= 她感到很大的滿足感。

In:

> sense of reward

the Chinese may naturally become:

> 成就感 / 滿足感

even though the English noun is reward.

Important distinction: rewarding vs rewarded

rewarding

describes the experience/activity:

> “Gardening is rewarding.”

「園藝很有成就感。」 rewarded

describes the person receiving a reward:

> “She was rewarded for her effort.”

「她因努力而受到獎勵。」

So:

> rewarding ≠ rewarded

Important distinction: rewarding vs worthwhile

rewarding

emphasizes satisfaction/benefit gained.

worthwhile

means worth the time, effort, or cost.

A difficult activity may be both:

> rewarding and worthwhile

but the emphasis differs.

Family-extension sweep

After the full audit, the useful modern family includes:

* reward — prize/benefit given = 獎勵 / 獎賞

* reward — positive result of effort = 回報 / 成果

* reward — money offered for information/help = 懸賞金

* reward — behavioural psychology = 正向獎勵 / 強化

* reward — verb = 獎勵 / 報答

* reward behaviour/quality = 使某種行為 / 特質獲得好結果

* rewarding — satisfying = 有成就感 / 令人滿足

* rewarding — profitable/beneficial = 有回報 / 有收穫

* unrewarding = 缺乏回報 / 沒有成就感

* financial reward = 金錢回報

* reward system = 獎勵制度

* reward points = 獎賞積分

This is close to the useful modern ceiling without over-splitting every workplace compound.
