Passage recap

> “Over the following months, Kelvin accompanied him to physiotherapy sessions and helped more at home.”

Here:

session = one scheduled period during which physiotherapy treatment takes place

Best Traditional Chinese:

* 一次物理治療

* 物理治療時段

* 治療療程，視上下文而定

Natural contextual translation:

在接下來的幾個月裡，Kelvin 陪父親去接受物理治療，也在家裡幫忙更多。

Passage MCQ-ready meaning

session

= a scheduled period of time devoted to a particular treatment, activity, meeting, or form of work

In this passage:

physiotherapy session

= 一次物理治療；物理治療時段

The biggest learner splits are:

> therapy session

> → 一次*治療 / 輔導*

> training session

> → 一次*訓練*

> brainstorming session

> → 腦力激盪會議

> conference session

> → 會議中的一個場次

> parliamentary session

> → 議會會期

> court in session

> → 法庭正在開庭

> recording session

> → 錄音時段

> login session

> → 登入工作階段

A useful conceptual shortcut is:

session = one bounded block of time devoted to one particular activity

So the passage uses the treatment/rehabilitation branch rather than the meeting, computing, or institutional senses.
