Your passage:

> “For example, set a target: save twelve months of personal expenses and six months of basic business costs...”

Meaning in this passage

Here, target means:

> a specific, measurable result that Kam Chai intends to achieve before resigning.

This is more concrete than merely:

> “I want to save some money.”

His target is numerically defined:

> 12 months of personal expenses + 6 months of basic business costs

繁體中文：

 目標*

 具體目標*

 可量度的目標值*

So:

> “set a target”

= 「訂立一個具體目標」

The passage deliberately moves from:

> dream

to:

> target

That is rhetorically important.

A dream is desired.

A target is specific enough to measure.

A. TARGET = SPECIFIC RESULT TO ACHIEVE

1. target = result that someone aims to achieve (目標)

This is the exact passage branch.

> “Our target is to save $50,000.”

「我們的*目標*是儲蓄五萬元。」

B. SET A TARGET

2. set a target = 訂立目標

> “Set a realistic savings target.”

「訂立一個現實可行的儲蓄目標。」

3. set someone a target = 為某人訂立目標

Especially BrE/business/education:

> “The manager set the team a challenging target.”

「經理為團隊訂立了一個具挑戰性的目標。」

C. MEET A TARGET

4. meet a target = 達到目標

> “The café met its monthly sales target.”

「咖啡店達到了每月銷售目標。」

D. HIT A TARGET

5. hit a target = 達標

Originally based on literally hitting a shooting target.

> “We hit our revenue target.”

「我們達到了收入目標。」

Very common business English.

E. REACH A TARGET

6. reach a target = 達到目標值

> “Savings reached the target.”

「儲蓄達到目標金額。」

F. ACHIEVE A TARGET

7. achieve a target = 實現目標

> “The company achieved its production target.”

「公司達到了生產目標。」

G. EXCEED A TARGET

8. exceed a target = 超出目標

> “Sales exceeded the target by 10%.”

「銷售額比目標高出 10%。」

H. BEAT A TARGET

9. beat a target = 表現優於目標

Informal/business:

> “We beat our quarterly target.”

「我們的季度表現超越目標。」

I. MISS A TARGET

10. miss a target = 未達目標

> “The firm missed its sales target.”

「公司未能達到銷售目標。」

Again based metaphorically on:

> firing at a physical target and missing.

J. FALL SHORT OF TARGET

11. fall short of a target = 未達標

> “Revenue fell short of target.”

「收入未達目標。」

K. BE ON TARGET

12. be on target = likely to achieve the intended result / accurately aligned (符合目標；進度理想)

> “We are on target to finish by June.”

「我們目前的進度足以按目標在六月完成。」

13. on target for X

> “The company is on target for record sales.”

「公司目前有望達到創紀錄的銷售成績。」

L. OFF TARGET

14. off target = inaccurate or not meeting the intended objective (偏離目標)

> “The forecast was badly off target.”

「預測嚴重偏離實際 / 目標。」

M. REALISTIC TARGET

15. realistic target = 現實可達的目標

Your passage explicitly favors this kind of target.

N. AMBITIOUS TARGET

16. ambitious target = 進取 / 高難度目標

Difficult but intentionally demanding.

O. STRETCH TARGET

17. stretch target = 挑戰性極高、要求超越一般水平的目標

Business/management term.

Designed to push performance beyond ordinary expectations.

P. UNREALISTIC TARGET

18. unrealistic target = 不切實際的目標

Important distinction:

> ambitious ≠ necessarily unrealistic.

Q. SALES TARGET

19. sales target = 銷售目標

> amount/number of sales expected over a period.

R. REVENUE TARGET

20. revenue target = 收入 / 營業額目標

S. PROFIT TARGET

21. profit target = 利潤目標

T. SAVINGS TARGET

22. savings target = 儲蓄目標

This is essentially your passage.

U. COST TARGET

23. cost target = 成本目標

Desired maximum or planned level of cost.

V. COST-REDUCTION TARGET

24. cost-reduction target = 減省成本目標

W. PRODUCTION / OUTPUT TARGET

25. production target = 生產目標

26. output target = 產量目標

X. PERFORMANCE TARGET

27. performance target = 績效目標

Can concern:

- * sales
- * productivity
- * quality
- * service
- * completion.

Y. RECRUITMENT TARGET

28. recruitment target = 招聘目標

Number/type of people organization intends to recruit.

Z. FUNDRAISING TARGET

29. fundraising target = 籌款目標

> “The campaign reached its fundraising target.”

「籌款活動達到籌款目標。」

AA. TARGET DATE

30. target date = planned date by which something should happen (目標日期) **

> “Our target date for opening is June.”

「我們的目標開業日期是六月。」

AB. TARGET TIME

31. target time = 目標時間

Examples:

- * race time;
- * completion time;
- * response time.

AC. TARGET LEVEL

32. target level = 目標水平

> target inventory level > target inflation level > target staffing level.

AD. TARGET VALUE

33. target value = 目標值

A numerical value one aims to reach.

Common in:

- * engineering
- * statistics
- * medicine
- * control systems.

AE. TARGET RANGE

34. target range = 目標範圍

Rather than one exact number:

> acceptable/desired interval.

Example:

> blood pressure target range.

AF. TARGET THRESHOLD

35. target threshold = 目標門檻

A minimum/maximum level intended to trigger or satisfy something.

AG. TARGET RATE

36. target rate = 目標比率 / 利率 / 增長率

Meaning depends on domain.

Examples:

- * target growth rate;
- * target interest rate;
- * target response rate.

AH. TARGET PRICE / PRICE TARGET

Two related but not identical constructions.

37. target price = planned/desired price (目標價格) **

In management/accounting:

> price a firm aims to sell at or design around.

38. price target = analyst's projected future security price (目標價) **

Finance/investment terminology:

> expected/proposed future share price under an analyst's valuation assumptions.

A price target is an estimate, not a guaranteed future price.

AI. TARGET COST

39. target cost = 目標成本

In management accounting/product design:

> maximum/planned cost compatible with desired selling price/profit.

AJ. TARGET COSTING

40. target costing = 目標成本法

Broad concept:

> target selling price – desired profit → allowable/target cost.

Used during product planning/design.

AK. TARGET RETURN

41. target return = 目標回報率

Desired investment/business return.

AL. TARGET ALLOCATION

42. target allocation = 目標資產配置 / 資源配置

Desired proportions assigned to:

- * assets
- * budgets
- * staff
- * resources.

AM. TARGET-DATE FUND

43. target-date fund = 目標日期基金

An investment fund whose asset allocation generally changes over time as a specified target year approaches.

Often used for retirement-oriented investing.

The target date is not a guarantee of investment value or retirement adequacy.

AN. TARGET COMPANY — M&A

44. target company = 收購目標公司

In mergers/acquisitions:

> company another party seeks to acquire.

AO. TAKEOVER TARGET

45. takeover target = 收購對象

A company seen as possible/actual subject of an acquisition attempt.

AP. ACQUISITION TARGET

46. acquisition target = 潛在收購對象

Company/business/assets considered for acquisition.

AQ. PHYSICAL TARGET = THING AIMED AT

Now the original concrete branch behind many figurative uses.

47. target = object/mark aimed at in shooting, archery, darts, etc. (靶 ; 目標物) **

「箭射中了靶。」

AR. SHOOTING TARGET

48. shooting target = 射擊靶

AS. ARCHERY TARGET

49. archery target = 射箭靶

Usually marked with scoring rings.

AT. DARTBOARD AS TARGET

50. target = aiming object in darts/throwing

A dartboard functions as the physical target.

AU. BULL'S-EYE

51. bull's-eye = target centre / highest-value central area (靶心)

A bull's-eye is part of a target, not normally synonymous with the entire target.

AV. MOVING TARGET — LITERAL

52. moving target = 移動靶

A target that changes position.

AW. STATIONARY TARGET

53. stationary target = 固定靶

AX. TARGET PRACTICE

54. target practice = 射靶練習

Practice shooting/throwing at targets.

AY. HIT / MISS THE TARGET — LITERAL

55. hit the target = 擊中目標

56. miss the target = 未擊中目標

These literal meanings generate the business metaphors:

> hit sales target
> miss sales target.

AZ. ON TARGET — ACCURATE AIM

* fraud;
* blame.

BH. SOFT TARGET

65. soft target = relatively unprotected/easy target (防護較弱的目標) **

Security/military term.

Figuratively it may also mean:

> someone easy to criticize or exploit.

Opposite-type expression:

> hard target.

BI. HARD TARGET

66. hard target = difficult/protected target (防護嚴密 / 難以對付的目標) **

Can be literal security terminology or figurative.

BJ. TARGET OF CRITICISM

67. target of criticism = 批評對象

> “The policy became the target of criticism.”

「該政策成為批評對象。」

BK. TARGET OF RIDICULE

68. target of ridicule = 嘲笑對象

BL. TARGET OF BLAME

69. target of blame = 被責怪對象

BM. TARGET OF ABUSE / HARASSMENT

70. target of abuse/harassment = 受辱罵 / 騷擾對象

BN. TARGET OF BULLYING

71. target of bullying = 受欺凌對象

Often preferable in some professional contexts to label the person:

> “victim”

depending on framing.

BO. TARGET OF FRAUD / SCAM

72. target of a scam = 騙局鎖定的對象

BP. TARGET OF INVESTIGATION

73. target of an investigation = 調查的主要對象

This can have specialized legal meanings in particular jurisdictions, but in ordinary English simply means:

> person/entity investigators are focusing on.

BQ. PUT A TARGET ON SOMEONE'S BACK

74. put/paint a target on someone's back = make someone especially likely to be attacked, criticized, or singled out (令某人成為眾矢之的) **

> “The public accusation put a target on his back.”

「公開指控令他成為眾矢之的。」

BR. HAVE A TARGET ON YOUR BACK

75. have a target on one's back = 成為別人重點攻擊 / 批評對象

Figurative.

BS. MOVING TARGET — FIGURATIVE

76. moving target = something difficult to achieve/define because it keeps changing (不斷變動的目標)

> “Customer expectations are a moving target.”

「顧客期望是一個不斷變化的目標。」

Very common business/technology idiom.

BT. TARGET = PERSON/GROUP SELECTED FOR ATTENTION

The word is not always hostile.

77. target = intended recipient/group of an action (鎖定對象)

Marketing, education, medicine, policy and communication often use this neutral sense.

BU. TARGET MARKET

78. target market = 目標市場

The group of consumers a product/service is designed and marketed for.

BV. TARGET AUDIENCE

79. target audience = 目標受眾

The intended readers/viewers/listeners/users of:

- * advertisement;
- * article;
- * programme;
- * campaign;
- * content.

BW. TARGET CUSTOMER

80. target customer = 目標顧客

A customer profile/business segment a company most wants to reach.

BX. TARGET CONSUMER

81. target consumer = 目標消費者

BY. TARGET DEMOGRAPHIC

82. target demographic = 目標人口群 / 受眾群

Group characterized by attributes such as:

- * age;
- * location;
- * household type,

depending on analysis.

BZ. TARGET SEGMENT

83. target segment = 目標市場區隔

A chosen segment within a larger market.

CA. TARGET GROUP

84. target group = 目標群體

Very broad:

- * consumers;
- * students;
- * patients;
- * service users.

CB. TARGET POPULATION

85. target population = 目標人口 / 研究對象總體

Used in:

- * research;
- * public health;
- * surveys;
- * programmes.

It means:

> population to which an intervention, study, or intended inference is directed.

CC. TARGET USERS

86. target users = 目標使用者

In product/UX/software design.

CD. VERB: TARGET SOMEONE/SOMETHING

87. target X = select X for attention/action (以 X 為目標 ; 鎖定 X) **

> “The campaign targets young adults.”

「這項宣傳活動以年輕成年人為目標受眾。」

CE. TARGET SOMEONE FOR SOMETHING

88. target X for Y = select X to receive/be subjected to Y

> “The programme targets small businesses for support.”

「計劃以小型企業為重點支援對象。」

But:

> “He was targeted for criticism.”

= 他被特別挑出來批評.

Context determines positive/negative direction.

CF. TARGET X AT Y

89. target X at Y = design/direct X toward Y (把 X 針對 / 面向 Y) **

> “The advertisement is targeted at students.”

「這則廣告以學生為目標受眾。」

CG. BE TARGETED AT

90. be targeted at X = 專門面向 X

> “The course is targeted at beginners.”

「課程以初學者為對象。」

No hostility implied.

CH. TARGET X WITH Y

91. target X with Y = direct Y specifically toward X

> “The service targets customers with personalized offers.”

「服務以個人化優惠鎖定顧客。」

CI. TARGETED = SPECIFICALLY DIRECTED

92. targeted = deliberately aimed at a particular group/problem (針對性的 ; 精準的)

Examples:

- * targeted advertising
- * targeted support
- * targeted intervention
- * targeted treatment.

CJ. TARGETED ADVERTISING

93. targeted advertising = 定向 / 精準廣告

Advertising selected for particular users/groups according to specified characteristics/data.

CK. AD TARGETING

94. ad targeting = 廣告定向

Process of choosing:

- * audience;
- * context;
- * characteristics for advertising delivery.

CL. RETARGETING — MARKETING

95. retargeting = 再行銷 / 重新定向廣告

Digital marketing:

> showing advertising to users who previously interacted with a site/product/content.

CM. RETARGET A CUSTOMER / USER

96. retarget = 再次鎖定同一或相關受眾

CN. TARGETING = PROCESS OF SELECTING

97. targeting = process of selecting which group/object to direct resources/actions toward (目標選定 ; 定向) **

Very broad noun.

CO. MILITARY / SECURITY TARGETING

98. targeting = process of identifying/selecting objectives for military action (目標選定) **

A specialist operational sense.

For vocabulary purposes:

> target = selected object/person/place > targeting = process of selecting/directing action toward it.

CP. TARGET ACQUISITION

99. target acquisition = 目標捕獲 / 發現與確認目標

Military/sensor/robotics terminology:

> detecting and identifying a target sufficiently for subsequent tracking/action.

CQ. TARGET IDENTIFICATION

100. target identification = 目標識別

Determining what the detected object is.

CR. TARGET DESIGNATION

101. target designation = 目標指示 / 標定

Marking/specifying a selected target for a system/operator.

CS. TARGET TRACKING

102. target tracking = 目標追蹤

Continuously estimating position/motion of a selected object.

Also used in:

- * radar;
- * robotics;
- * computer vision.

CT. TARGET LOCK / LOCK-ON

103. target lock = 目標鎖定

A system has identified/tracked a selected target sufficiently to maintain tracking.

This is also used figuratively/jokingly outside military contexts.

CU. RADAR TARGET

104. radar target = 雷達目標

An object detected/observed by radar.

CV. SONAR TARGET

105. sonar target = 聲納目標

An object detected/observed by sonar.

CW. OBSERVATION TARGET

106. target = object selected for scientific observation (觀測目標) **

Examples:

* astronomical target;

* imaging target;

* survey target.

CX. ASTRONOMICAL TARGET

107. target = selected star/galaxy/object for observation (天文觀測目標) **

> “The telescope moved to the next target.”

「望遠鏡轉向下一個觀測目標。」

CY. SPORTS: SHOT ON TARGET

108. shot on target = 射正

In football/soccer:

> a shot that would enter the goal if not stopped by the goalkeeper/defender under the statistic provider's definition.

CZ. SHOT OFF TARGET

109. shot off target = 射門偏離目標 / 未射正

DA. ON-TARGET PERCENTAGE / ACCURACY

110. on-target = accurately directed toward goal/objective

Used more broadly in sports/shooting.

DB. AMERICAN FOOTBALL: TARGET

111. target = pass directed toward a particular receiver (傳球目標) **

Sports statistics:

> “The receiver had ten targets.”

= quarterback attempted to throw to that receiver ten times under the stat definition.

DC. TARGET MAN — FOOTBALL

112. target man = target forward used as focal receiving point in attack (支點中鋒) **

Football/soccer term.

Usually a forward who can:

- * receive direct balls;
- * hold up possession;
- * link teammates.

Tactical details vary.

DD. FITNESS: TARGET HEART RATE

113. target heart rate = 目標心率

A heart-rate range selected for a particular exercise intensity/goal.

Exact appropriate values depend on individual and method.

DE. TARGET WEIGHT

114. target weight = 目標體重

Desired weight selected as a goal.

Not inherently a medical recommendation merely because it is called a target.

DF. MEDICINE: TARGET BLOOD PRESSURE / GLUCOSE

115. target blood pressure = 目標血壓

116. target glucose level = 目標血糖水平

Clinically selected values/ranges.

Exact targets depend on patient/context/guidelines and should not be assumed universal.

DG. DRUG TARGET

117. drug target = 藥物作用靶點

A biological molecule/structure whose activity a drug is intended to influence.

Examples can include:

- * receptor;
- * enzyme;
- * protein.

DH. MOLECULAR TARGET

118. molecular target = 分子靶點

Specific molecule selected for:

- * therapy;
- * measurement;

* research.

DI. TARGET RECEPTOR / ENZYME / PROTEIN

119. target receptor/protein/enzyme = 目標受體 / 蛋白 / 酶

The molecule an intervention is intended to affect.

DJ. TARGETED THERAPY

120. targeted therapy = 標靶治療

Medical treatment designed to act on specific molecular/biological targets associated with disease.

Most familiar in oncology, though targeted approaches exist elsewhere.

DK. TARGETED DRUG DELIVERY

121. targeted drug delivery = 靶向藥物遞送

Approach intended to concentrate/deliver treatment preferentially to a particular:

- * tissue;
- * cell type;
- * site.

DL. TARGET CELL

122. target cell = 靶細胞 / 目標細胞

A cell selected/affected by:

- * hormone;
- * immune cell;
- * pathogen;
- * treatment,

depending on domain.

DM. TARGET TISSUE / ORGAN

123. target tissue / target organ = 靶組織 / 靶器官

Tissue/organ particularly acted on by a:

- * hormone;
- * toxin;
- * drug;
- * disease process.

DN. TARGET ANTIGEN

124. target antigen = 靶抗原

Antigen selected for recognition by:

- * antibodies;
- * immune cells;
- * diagnostic/therapeutic systems.

DO. TARGET LESION

125. target lesion = 目標病灶

In medical imaging/oncology response assessment:

> a lesion selected for repeated measurement/evaluation.

DP. TARGET VOLUME — RADIOTHERAPY

126. target volume = 放射治療靶區

Defined tissue volume intended to receive treatment.

Specialist medical terminology.

DQ. ON-TARGET EFFECT

127. on-target effect = intervention's effect through its intended biological target (靶上效應)
**

Can be:

- * desired;
- * undesirable.

The defining point is:

> it occurs through the intended target.

DR. OFF-TARGET EFFECT

128. off-target effect = unintended effect on a different target/site (脫靶效應) **

Used in:

- * pharmacology;
- * molecular biology;
- * genome-editing discussion.

Important:

> off-target ≠ necessarily harmful, though often undesirable.

DS. GENETICS: TARGET GENE

129. target gene = 目標基因

Gene selected for:

- * study;
- * detection;
- * regulation;
- * modification.

DT. TARGET SEQUENCE / SITE

130. target sequence / target site = 目標序列 / 位點

Specific nucleic-acid sequence/location selected for analysis or intervention.

DU. TARGET LOCUS

131. target locus = 目標基因座 / 位點

Genetics/genomics.

DV. TARGET SPECIES

132. target species = 目標物種

Species an intervention/study/management activity is intended to affect or observe.

DW. NON-TARGET SPECIES / ORGANISM

133. non-target species = 非目標物種

Organism not intended to be affected by the intervention.

Common in:

* ecology;

* pesticide/environmental assessment.

DX. TARGET PEST

134. target pest = 目標害蟲 / 有害生物

The pest a control method is designed to affect.

DY. CHEMISTRY: TARGET COMPOUND

135. target compound / target molecule = 目標化合物 / 目標分子

The compound a synthesis/research process is intended to produce or study.

DZ. TARGET ANALYTE

136. target analyte = 目標分析物

Specific substance an analytical test is designed to detect/measure.

EA. RESEARCH: TARGET POPULATION

Already above, but technically important.

137. target population = population about which study conclusions are intended (目標總體)

Distinct from:

- * actual sample;
- * accessible population,

depending on research design.

EB. TARGET PARAMETER

138. target parameter = 目標參數

Statistical quantity a study/model aims to estimate.

EC. TARGET ESTIMAND

139. target estimand = 目標估計量所對應的待估參量 / 目標估計對象

Specialist statistics/causal-inference language.

ED. TARGET OUTCOME

140. target outcome = 目標結果

Outcome intervention/model is designed to change or predict.

EE. PSYCHOLOGY / EDUCATION: TARGET BEHAVIOUR

141. target behaviour = 目標行為

A specifically defined behavior chosen for:

- * measurement;
- * intervention;
- * increase;
- * decrease.

EF. LEARNING TARGET

142. learning target = 學習目標

A specific statement of what students should:

- * know;
- * understand;
- * be able to do.

Usually more specific than a broad educational aim.

EG. TARGET SKILL

143. target skill = 目標技能

Skill selected for practice/development.

EH. TARGET VOCABULARY / TARGET WORD

144. target word = 目標詞

In language teaching/psycholinguistics:

> the particular word being tested, taught, recognized, or elicited.

Your current workflow itself could call target the word selected for curation.

EI. TARGET SENTENCE / STRUCTURE

145. target sentence / target structure = 目標句 / 目標語法結構

Language-learning/research terminology.

EJ. TARGET LANGUAGE

146. target language = 目標語言

Two important contexts:

translation

language into which something is translated.

language learning

language the learner is studying/expected to use.

EK. SOURCE VS TARGET LANGUAGE

source language language translated from.

target language language translated into.

EL. TARGET TEXT

147. target text = 譯文 / 目標文本

In translation studies:

> translated output in target language.

Contrast:

> source text.

EM. TARGET CULTURE

148. target culture = 目標文化

Culture associated with the target-language audience/context.

Translation/intercultural studies.

EN. COMPUTING: TARGET = DESTINATION

149. target = destination object/system/resource receiving an operation (目標端 ; 目的地)

A broad computing sense.

Examples:

* target file

* target device

* target server

* target address.

EO. TARGET ADDRESS

150. target address = 目標地址

The destination address to which:

- * data;
- * instruction;
- * operation is directed.

EP. TARGET HOST

151. target host = 目標主機

System selected for:

- * communication;
- * deployment;
- * testing;
- * authorized security assessment.

EQ. TARGET DEVICE

152. target device = 目標裝置

Device on which code/content is intended to run or be deployed.

ER. TARGET PLATFORM

153. target platform = 目標平台

Operating system/hardware/software environment for which something is built.

ES. TARGET ARCHITECTURE

154. target architecture = 目標處理器 / 系統架構

Architecture for which a compiler/toolchain produces machine code.

Examples conceptually:

> source machine ≠ target machine.

ET. COMPILATION TARGET

155. compilation target = 編譯目標

Specified:

- * architecture;
- * platform;
- * language;
- * environment

for compiler output.

EU. TARGET LANGUAGE — COMPILERS

156. target language = compiler output language (目標語言) **

In compiler theory:

> source language → translator/compiler → target language.

This may be:

- * machine code;
- * assembly;
- * another programming language.

Separate from human-language translation, but conceptually parallel.

EV. BUILD TARGET

157. build target = 建置目標

In build systems:

> named output/task that can be requested.

Examples conceptually:

- * application
- * library
- * test target.

EW. MAKE TARGET

158. target — Make/build system

A named target in a Makefile identifies something to build or a task to perform.

Specialist software-engineering sense.

EX. DEPLOYMENT TARGET

159. deployment target = 部署目標

System/environment/device to which software is deployed.

EY. DEBUG TARGET

160. debug target = 除錯目標

Program/process/device being debugged.

EZ. RENDER TARGET

161. render target = 渲染目標

Graphics programming:

> buffer/texture/surface to which rendering output is written.

FA. STORAGE: TARGET VS INITIATOR

162. storage target = 儲存目標端

In technologies such as iSCSI:

initiator starts storage request.

target

provides/exports storage resource.

Highly specialist.

FB. HTML TARGET ATTRIBUTE

163. target = where linked/form output should open (目標瀏覽環境) **

HTML uses `target` to specify browsing context such as:

- * same context;

- * new tab/window,

depending on value/browser behavior.

FC. DOM EVENT TARGET

164. event target = 事件目標元素

Web programming:

> object on which an event was dispatched/occurred.

FD. CSS `:target`

165. `:target` = CSS pseudo-class matching element referenced by the document URL fragment

Specialist frontend terminology.

FE. MACHINE LEARNING: TARGET VARIABLE

166. target variable = model is trying to predict (目標變量)

In supervised ML/statistics:

> input/features → model → target prediction.

Examples:

- * price;
- * class;
- * outcome.

FF. TARGET / LABEL

167. target = desired/observed output value (目標值 ; 標籤)

In ML, target and label often overlap.

But:

target broader desired response/output.

label

especially class/category annotation.

FG. TARGET CLASS

168. target class = 目標類別

A class of special interest in classification.

FH. TARGET VECTOR

169. target vector = 目標向量

Vector representing desired output(s).

Used in ML/control.

FI. TARGET ENCODING

170. target encoding = 目標編碼

A categorical-feature encoding method based on statistics of the prediction target.

Specialist data-science term.

FJ. TARGET NETWORK — REINFORCEMENT LEARNING

171. target network = 目標網絡

A secondary network used in some reinforcement-learning algorithms to provide more stable learning targets.

Specialist.

FK. TARGET VALUE — REINFORCEMENT LEARNING

172. target value = learning update aims to approximate this value (學習目標值) **

Used across:

- * regression;
- * neural networks;
- * reinforcement learning.

FL. RETARGET — COMPUTING

173. retarget = change the intended platform/destination (重新指定目標平台) **

Examples:

- * retarget compiler;

* retarget application to another framework/platform.

FM. RETARGETING — COMPILERS

174. retargeting = adapting compiler/tool for a different target architecture

Different from:

> advertising retargeting.

Same word, different technical domain.

FN. TARGETABLE

175. targetable = capable of being specifically selected/aimed at (可被鎖定 / 可針對的) **

Examples:

* targetable audience segment;

* targetable receptor;

* targetable device.

Technical/business adjective.

FO. UNTARGETED

176. untargeted = not directed at one specific target (非定向的 ; 非靶向的) **

Examples:

* untargeted advertising;

* untargeted analysis;

* untargeted screening.

Meaning depends on field.

FP. TARGETED VS BROAD / UNIVERSAL targeted directed toward a selected group/problem.

broad/universal applied widely rather than selectively.

Example:

> targeted support

means:

> resources directed especially to chosen recipients.

FQ. ON-TARGET VS OFF-TARGET

on-target accurately affecting/intending the desired target.

off-target affecting something unintended.

Used in:

- * shooting;
- * medicine;
- * molecular biology;
- * project performance.

FR. TARGET-DRIVEN

177. target-driven = strongly organized around meeting numerical/performance targets (目標導向的) **

> “a target-driven sales culture”

「高度以達標為導向的銷售文化」

Can be neutral or critical depending on context.

FS. TARGET-ORIENTED

178. target-oriented = focused on achieving defined targets (目標導向的) **

Less emotionally loaded than target-driven.

FT. TARGET-SPECIFIC

179. target-specific = specifically associated with one target (目標特異的) **

Common in:

- * medicine;
- * chemistry;
- * biology;
- * technical systems.

FU. MOVING TARGET — MANAGEMENT / TECHNOLOGY

Already mentioned, but extremely important.

180. moving target = goal/requirement that keeps changing

> “The technical requirements became a moving target.”

「技術要求變成一個不斷改變的目標。」

This makes success difficult because:

> endpoint itself is unstable.

FV. EASY TARGET — CRITICISM

181. easy target = person/topic easy to criticize

> “Large companies are often easy targets for jokes.”

「大型公司往往很容易成為取笑對象。」

FW. TARGET RICH? — LOWER PRIORITY

Target-rich exists in military jargon and figuratively for an environment containing many possible objects of attention. Because it retains strong conflict imagery and is much less central for learners, I would index it only as a low-priority specialist compound, not as a principal branch.

FX. IMPORTANT DISTINCTIONS target vs goal goal

broad desired result.

target

usually more specific and measurable.

Your passage:

> café ownership = goal/dream

but:

> saving 12 months of expenses = target.

target vs objective objective specific intended outcome, often formal/planned.

target

often adds:

* number;

- * threshold;
- * deadline;
- * measurable endpoint.

Large overlap.

target vs aim aim purpose/intention or act of directing toward something.

target

specific thing/result being aimed at.

- > aim = direction/purpose
- > target = endpoint/object.

target vs ambition ambition

strong desire to achieve something significant.

target

defined measurable result.

- > ambition to build a café chain
- > target of opening one profitable café.

target vs milestone

target desired result.

milestone important checkpoint along the route.

Your passage uses both:

> savings target > milestones before resigning.

target vs benchmark

target

where you want performance to go.

benchmark reference point against which performance is compared.

A benchmark may help set a target.

target vs standard standard required/accepted quality level or rule.

target desired achievement.

A safety standard may be mandatory; a performance target may be aspirational.

target vs quota quota

specified amount/share that must or may be allocated/achieved, often more rigid.

target desired goal, sometimes non-binding.

In sales workplaces the distinction can blur.

target vs forecast

target

what you want to happen.

forecast

what you expect to happen.

Extremely important.

> sales target = desired sales > sales forecast = predicted sales.

target vs projection projection calculated estimate of future outcome under assumptions.

target

intended outcome.

target vs estimate estimate

best approximation of unknown/current/future quantity.

target desired quantity.

target vs deadline

deadline

latest time by which something must be completed.

target date planned desired completion date.

A target date can sometimes move without constituting a formal missed deadline.

target vs threshold

threshold

boundary at which a condition changes/triggers.

target

value one wants to reach.

A target may be above/below a threshold.

target vs limit limit maximum/minimum boundary.

target desired value.

> spending limit $10,000 > spending target $8,000.

target vs range

target

single value or desired outcome.

target range acceptable interval.

target vs destination destination place/data endpoint something ultimately goes to.

target

selected object/destination/action endpoint.

In computing they may overlap strongly.

target vs audience

audience

people who actually receive/watch/listen.

target audience people the communication is intended to reach.

Actual audience and target audience may differ.

target market vs market

market

all potential buyers/exchange environment.

target market

selected portion a company specifically intends to serve.

target customer vs actual customer target customer

ideal/intended customer profile.

actual customer person who actually buys.

Not always identical.

target vs victim

target

person selected for attack, fraud, criticism, etc.

victim

person actually harmed/suffered an offence/event.

Someone can be targeted without ultimately becoming a victim.

target vs suspect suspect person suspected of wrongdoing.

target

person/object on whom an investigation or action is focused.

Legal meanings can vary; do not automatically treat them as synonyms.

target vs threat

target

thing action is directed toward.

threat

thing capable of causing harm.

The target is the recipient/object; the threat is the danger.

target vs label — ML

label

annotated answer/class, especially categorical.

target

broader outcome the model is trained to predict.

target vs feature — ML feature

input variable.

target

output/dependent variable.

target vs source — translation/computing source

where material/data comes from.

target

where it goes/is transformed to.

Examples:

> source language → target language > source architecture → target architecture.

FY. GRAMMAR

182. set a target of + amount

> “Set a target of $50,000.”

「訂下五萬元的目標。」

183. set a target for + noun/time

> “Set a target for monthly sales.”

> “Set a target for June.”

184. target of + amount

> “a target of 100 customers”

185. target for + period

> “the target for this quarter”

186. target to + verb?

Possible in constructions such as:

> “a target to reduce emissions”

where to reduce explains the target.

But as a verb, standard English usually prefers:

> aim to reduce rather than:

> target to reduce.

Better verb patterns:

> target a 10% reduction > target sales of $1 million.

187. target + noun/amount — verb

> “The company is targeting 10% growth.”

「公司以 10% 增長為目標。」

188. target X at Y > target advertising at students.

189. be targeted at Y

> course targeted at beginners.

190. target X for Y > target customers for special offers.

191. target X with Y > target users with personalized messages.

FZ. COUNTABILITY

measurable objective

Countable:

- > a target
- > five targets.

physical aiming object

Countable:

- > three targets.

person/group selected for action

Countable:

- > an easy target
- > several targets.

technical target

Countable:

- > a drug target
- > a build target
- > three prediction targets.

targeting

Usually uncountable as process:

- > advertising targeting
- > molecular targeting.

GA. FAMILY MAP

Branch	Main meaning
-----	-----
target — objective	specific measurable result to achieve target — value/date/range	numerical or temporal endpoint target — physical mark	object aimed at in shooting/sport target — selected object/person	thing/person chosen for attack, criticism, observation, etc.
target — audience/market	intended recipient/customer group target — verb	deliberately select/direct action toward targeted	specifically directed at a chosen object/group targeting	process of selecting/directing retarget	direct again/change target target — medicine/biology	molecule/cell/gene/tissue selected for action/study target — research/ML	outcome/variable being estimated or predicted target — computing	destination/platform/output/task target — language	language/text translated or learned toward target — sports	aiming object, shot accuracy, intended receiver target — historical	small round shield

Master comparison

Form / sense	MCQ-ready Traditional Chinese meaning
-----	-----
target — objective	具體、通常可量度的預定成果 / 目標
set a target	訂立一個明確目標 meet/reach/achieve a target	達到 / 實現目標 hit a target — figurative	成功達標 exceed/beat a target	表現超越原定目標
miss/fall short of target	未達到原定目標
on target — performance	目前進度 / 表現符合達標要求 off target	偏離預期 / 目標 realistic target	具有實際可達性的目標
stretch target	刻意設定得非常具挑戰性的目標
sales/revenue/profit target	銷售 / 收入 / 利潤目標 savings target	希望儲到的指定金額 performance target	預先訂立的績效成果
target date	希望事情完成 / 發生的預定日期 target value/level	希望達到的數值 / 水平 target range	希望維持在內的指定範圍
target price	希望 / 計劃採用的價格
price target	投資分析中對證券未來價格的估計目標價
target cost	產品 / 服務希望控制在內的成本
target costing	從目標售價及利潤反推可接受成本的管理會計方法

target-date fund	隨指定年份接近而逐步調整資產配置的基金
target company	收購交易中被收購 / 擬收購的公司 physical target	射擊、射箭等所瞄準的靶
bull's-eye	靶中央的靶心
moving/stationary target	移動 / 固定的靶
target practice	對靶進行射擊 / 投擲練習
target — selected victim/object	被特別挑選作攻擊、批評、欺詐等的對象
prime target	首要 / 極有可能被選中的目標
easy target	很容易遭攻擊、嘲笑、欺騙或批評的對象
soft/hard target	防護較弱 / 較難接近或攻擊的目標 target of criticism/ridicule	批評 / 嘲笑的集中對象
put a target on someone's back	令某人成為大家重點攻擊 / 批評的對象
moving target — figurative	因要求 / 條件不停改變而難以達到的目標
target market	企業特別選定希望服務 / 銷售的市場群體
target audience	訊息 / 媒體內容希望觸及的預定受眾 target customer	企業主要希望吸引的顧客類型 target group/population	計劃、服務或研究所針對的群體 / 人口
target — verb	刻意選擇某人 / 物作為行動對象
target X at Y	把產品、廣告、訊息等專門面向 Y be targeted at X	專門為 X 設計 / 面向 X
targeted advertising	根據指定特徵向特定受眾投放的精準 / 定向廣告
retargeting — marketing	再次向曾經互動過的使用者投放廣告
target acquisition	感測 / 軍事系統中發現並確認目標的過程 target tracking	持續追蹤目標的位置 / 運動 target lock	系統已穩定識別並持續追蹤某目標
radar/sonar target	雷達 / 聲納所偵測或觀察的物體
shot on target — football	足球射門射正
target — American football	傳球者嘗試把球傳給某接球員的一次傳球目標
target man — football	作為進攻支點接應長傳 / 直傳的前鋒
target heart rate/weight	預先設定希望達到的心率 / 體重
drug/molecular target	藥物 / 治療希望作用的分子或生物靶點 targeted therapy	針對指定分子 / 生物機制的標靶治療 targeted drug delivery	把藥物盡量送至指定組織 / 細胞的靶向遞送 target cell/tissue/organ	介入 / 激素 / 藥物等主要作用的靶細胞 / 組織 / 器官
on-target effect	透過原本預定靶點產生的效應
off-target effect	在非預定靶點產生的脫靶效應
target gene/sequence/site	研究 / 檢測 / 介入所選定的基因、序列或位點
target species / non-target species	有意影響的物種 / 並非預定影響的物種 target compound/analyte	化學研究希望製備 / 檢測的目標化合物 / 分析物
target behaviour	行為研究 / 介入中明確選定要改變或測量的行為 learning target	學生應具體學懂 / 做到甚麼的學習目標
target word/structure	語言教學 / 實驗中被特別測試或教授的詞 / 結構 target language — translation	翻譯所要譯成的語言 target text	翻譯完成後在目標語言中的文本
target — computing	操作、資料、部署或程式輸出的目的地 / 對象

target architecture/platform	程式編譯 / 部署所針對的硬件或軟件環境 build target	建置系統中可以要求產生 / 執行的指定輸出或任務 deployment target	程式實際要部署到的裝置 / 環境
render target	圖像程式把渲染結果寫入的表面 / 緩衝區
target variable — ML	模型希望預測的輸出變量
target/label — ML	訓練資料中模型應學會預測的正確輸出 target encoding	利用目標變量統計資料編碼類別特徵的方法 target network	某些強化學習算法中用來提供較穩定學習目標的輔助網絡
retarget — computing	把程式 / 工具重新改為面向另一平台或架構
targetable	可以被特別選定、識別或針對的
untargeted	沒有只針對一個特定對象 / 靶點的
target-driven	工作文化 / 系統高度以達成量化目標為中心的
target — historical	古義：小型圓盾

For your original passage

> “For example, set a target: save twelve months of personal expenses and six months of basic business costs...”

The writer is deliberately turning an emotional ambition into something testable.

Compare:

> dream: “I want my own café.”

with:

> target: “Before I resign, I will have enough money for 12 months of personal expenses and 6 months of business costs.”

The second statement has a clear answer:

> met / not met.

That is exactly what target adds.

The essay later does the same thing with:

- * districts to research;
- * rents to compare;
- * break-even sales;
- * customer tests;
- * milestones;
- * departure date.

So the progression is:

> dream → plan → target → evidence → decision

A strong Traditional Chinese rendering is:

> 「例如，先訂立一個具體目標：儲起足以支付十二個月個人開支，以及六個月基本營運成本的資金。」

For the core database, I would keep 7 principal semantic branches:

1. specific measurable result/value one aims to achieve — the passage sense
2. physical object/mark aimed at in shooting, sport, etc.
3. person/place/thing specifically selected for attack, criticism, investigation, fraud, or other attention
4. intended audience, customer, market, population, or recipient
5. verb: deliberately direct/select an action, product, message, or intervention toward something
6. technical target in medicine, biology, research, computing, ML, and language/translation
7. historical target = small round shield

Then separately index target date, target price, target market, target audience, moving target, easy target, put a target on someone's back, targeted advertising, retargeting, drug target, off-target effect, target variable, target language, build target, target architecture, targetable, and target-driven , because these have become established enough that a single gloss such as 「目標」 would hide a very large part of the family.
