「它簡單的玩法令遊戲非常**容易令人沉迷**。」

This can be:

* serious

* casual hyperbole

Context matters.

---

# U. ADDICTIVE SERIES / SHOW

21. **addictive = so enjoyable that you keep watching — 令人追看不停的；讓人欲罷不能的**

A major colloquial figurative sense.

### Practice 41

> “The series is completely **addictive**.”

「這套劇非常**令人追看不停 / 令人欲罷不能**。」

### Practice 42

> “I watched five episodes because the story was so addictive.”

「故事太**吸引得停不下來**，所以我一口氣看了五集。」

**addictive — entertainment = 極具吸引力，令人很想繼續看 / 玩 / 使用**

This does not necessarily imply clinical addiction.

# V. ADDICTIVE BOOK / STORY

22. **addictive reading = 令人一看就停不下來的讀物**

### Practice 43

> “The novel is **addictive reading**.”

「這本小說**好看到令人停不下來**。」

### Practice 44

「副歌奇怪地**令人一直想重複聽**。」

### Practice 46

> “The beat is incredibly addictive.”

「這個節拍**令人上癮般想一直聽**。」

This is hyperbolic, similar to:

> catchy

but not identical.

---

# X. ADDICTIVE FOOD

24. **addictive food = 好吃得令人停不下來的食物**

Colloquial/non-clinical.

### Practice 47

> “These chips are **addictive**.”

「這些薯片**好吃得讓人停不下來**。」

### Practice 48

> “The sauce is dangerously addictive.”

「這個醬汁**好吃得令人欲罷不能**。」

Usually hyperbole.

It does not automatically mean the food causes addiction in the clinical sense.

---

Y. “DANGEROUSLY ADDICTIVE”

25. dangerously addictive = 好吃 / 好玩得誇張地停不下來；或真的高度成癮

Context-sensitive.

> “The programme supports recovering **addicts**.”

「這個計劃支援正在康復的**成癮者**。」

Practice 56

> “The word addict can sound stigmatizing in some contexts.”

「在某些語境中，直接稱某人為 **addict** 可能帶有污名化意味。」

Modern careful wording may prefer:

- > person with addiction
- > person with substance use disorder depending on context.

# AC. ADDICT — INFORMAL FANATIC

29. **addict = person who is extremely enthusiastic about something — 狂熱愛好者；沉迷者****

Informal figurative use.

### Practice 57

> “He’s a fitness **addict****.”

「他是個**健身狂 / 健身迷****。」

### Practice 58

> “She’s a news addict.”

「她是個**新聞迷 / 對新聞很上癮的人****。」

Possible compounds:

- * fitness addict
- * news addict
- * shopping addict
- * work addict

Often informal/hyperbolic.

# AD. WORK ADDICT / WORKAHOLIC

30. **work addict = 工作狂；非常沉迷工作的人****

### Practice 59

> “He describes himself as a **work addict**.”

「他形容自己是個**工作狂**。」

### Practice 60

> “Workaholic is more common than work addict.”

「一般來說，**workaholic** 比 work addict 更常見。」

Useful distinction:

> work addict = understandable

> workaholic = lexicalized/commoner

---

# AE. RECOVERING ADDICT

31. **recovering addict = 正在戒癮 / 康復中的成癮者**

### Practice 61

> “The programme supports **recovering addicts**.”

「這個計劃支援正在**戒癮康復中的人士**。」

### Practice 62

> “Recovery can require long-term support.”

「康復過程可能需要長期支援。」

Register caution:

Person-first language may be preferred in health contexts.

---

# AF. ADDICTION TO ATTENTION

32. **addiction to attention = 對關注上癮；對他人注意形成強迫性需求**

### Practice 63

> “The writer feared developing an **addiction to attention**.”

「作者擔心自己會對**他人的關注上癮**。」

### Practice 64

> “Constant approval can create a strong craving for attention.”

「持續的認同可能造成對關注的強烈渴求。」

This fits the passage thematically, though it is not a diagnosis by itself.

---

# AG. ADDICTION TO APPROVAL

33. **addiction to approval = 對外界認同上癮 / 過度依賴認同**

### Practice 65

> “He became trapped in an **addiction to approval**.”

「他陷入了對**外界認同的過度依賴**。」

### Practice 66

> “Approval-seeking can become compulsive.”

「追求認同可能變得具有強迫性。」

More metaphorical/psychological than strict diagnostic terminology.

---

# AH. ADDICTION TO SUCCESS

34. **addiction to success = 對成功上癮 ; 強迫性追求成功**

### Practice 67

> “The essay describes an **addiction to success**.”

「文章描述了一種**對成功的強迫性追逐**。」

### Practice 68

> “Each achievement created the need for another.”

「每一項成就都令他想追求下一項。」

Very close to your passage's treadmill metaphor.

---

# AI. ADDICTIVE NATURE

35. addictive nature = 容易令人上癮的特質 / 成癮性

### Practice 69

> “Researchers studied the addictive nature of the activity.”

「研究人員研究這項活動的成癮性。」

「年輕使用者可能面對不同的**成癮風險****。」

---

# AL. ADDICTION CYCLE

38. **addiction cycle = 成癮循環****

### Practice 75

> “The programme teaches people how to interrupt the **addiction cycle****.”

「這個計劃教導人們如何打破**成癮循環****。」

### Practice 76

> “Craving, use and short-term relief can form a repeating cycle.”

「渴求、使用和短暫舒緩可能形成反覆循環。」

---

# AM. CRAVING

39. **craving = 強烈渴求****

Not the same family morphologically, but essential distinction.

### Practice 77

> “Addiction can involve strong **cravings****.”

「成癮可能伴隨強烈**渴求****。」

### Practice 78

> “He felt a strong urge to check his phone.”

**craving = 強烈想取得 / 使用某物的欲望****

# AN. TOLERANCE

40. **tolerance = 耐受性****

In addiction medicine:

> needing more of a substance/activity to achieve the same effect.

### Practice 79

> “Tolerance can develop over time.”

「**耐受性**可能隨時間形成。」

### Practice 80

> “A larger dose may be needed to produce the same effect.”

「可能需要更大劑量才能產生相同效果。」

Important:

> tolerance ≠ addiction automatically.

# AO. WITHDRAWAL

41. **withdrawal = 戒斷；戒斷症狀****

### Practice 81

> “Stopping suddenly may cause **withdrawal symptoms****.”

「突然停止可能會引起**戒斷症狀****。」

### Practice 82

> “Withdrawal is different from craving.”

「**戒斷反應**與渴求並不相同。」

Again:

> one possible feature of dependence/addiction, not identical to addiction itself.

---

# AP. COMPULSIVE

42. **compulsive = 強迫性的；難以控制的****

Essential distinction.

### Practice 83

> “Her phone checking became **compulsive****.”

「她查看手機的行為變得**具有強迫性****。」

### Practice 84

> “Compulsive behaviour can continue despite negative consequences.”

「強迫性行為即使帶來負面後果也可能持續。」

**compulsive** often describes behaviour more precisely than casual **addictive****.

---

# AQ. ADDICTIVE VS ADDICTED

Classic grammar distinction.

43. **addictive = causes addiction / makes repeated use tempting — 令人上癮的****

> “The game is addictive.”

= 這款遊戲令人上癮。

44. **addicted = person has developed addiction/dependence — 已上癮的****

> “He is addicted to the game.”

= 他沉迷於這款遊戲。

So:

> **addictive = 造成者**

> **addicted = 感受 / 依賴者**

Excellent MCQ distinction.

---

# AR. ADDICTIVE VS HABIT-FORMING

45. **addictive vs habit-forming**

**habit-forming**

= likely to become a repeated habit.

**addictive**

= stronger; suggests difficult-to-control repeated use and possible dependence/addiction.

> daily journaling can be habit-forming > but calling it addictive would usually be exaggerated.

So:

> habit ≠ addiction.

---

# AS. ADDICTIVE VS COMPELLING

46. **addictive vs compelling**

**compelling**

= extremely engaging/interesting.

**addictive**

= makes you strongly want to continue/repeat.

> compelling documentary

> = 非常吸引、引人入勝

> addictive series

> = 令人一集接一集停不下來

**Compelling** is safer/non-clinical.

---

# AT. ADDICTIVE VS ENGAGING

47. **addictive vs engaging****

**engaging****

= holds attention pleasantly.

**addictive****

= strongly drives repeated use.

A well-designed lesson can be engaging without being addictive.

---

# AU. ADDICTIVE VS CATCHY

48. **addictive vs catchy****

Especially music.

**catchy****

= easy to remember, sticks in your mind.

**addictive****

= makes you want to listen repeatedly.

A song may be catchy without feeling addictive.

# AV. ADDICTIVE VS ENJOYABLE

49. **addictive vs enjoyable****

**enjoyable**

= pleasant.

**addictive**

= so rewarding/compelling that stopping becomes difficult or repeated return is strongly encouraged.

This is central to your passage:

> enjoyment → dependence → addictive potential

---

AW. ADDICTIVE VS DEPENDENCE

You curated **dependence**.

**addictive**

= quality of something that can promote compulsive repeated use.

**dependence**

= state of relying on it.

So:

> addictive platform

> may contribute to > user dependence.

Cause-like property vs resulting state.

---

AX. ADDICTION VS DEPENDENCE

**dependence**

= reliance; can be physical, psychological, practical, structural.

**addiction**

= compulsive pattern with impaired control and continued behaviour despite harm.

Addiction is generally the stronger concept.

This distinction is especially important in medical contexts.

# AY. ADDICTION VS HABIT

### **habit**

= learned repeated behaviour.

### **addiction**

= difficult-to-control repeated behaviour involving strong reinforcement and harm/impairment.

Checking your phone every morning may be a habit.

Being unable to stop despite significant harm may suggest something more serious.

# AZ. ADDICTION VS OBSESSION

### **obsession**

= persistent intrusive preoccupation/thought focus.

### **addiction**

= compulsive engagement with substance/activity.

Someone can be obsessed with a topic without being addicted to a behaviour.

# BA. ADDICTION VS COMPULSION

### **compulsion**

= strong urge to perform a behaviour.

### **addiction**

= broader pattern that can include:

- * craving
- * impaired control
- * repetition
- * negative consequences

Compulsion can be part of addiction but is not identical.

---

# BB. ADDICTIVE VS DEPENDABLE

Spelling-family warning:

> addictive has nothing to do with dependable/dependent despite similar adjective structure.

No semantic relationship.

---

# BC. ADDICT VS ENTHUSIAST

**enthusiast**

= person who strongly enjoys an activity.

**addict**

= can imply unhealthy overinvolvement, though informal usage may be playful.

> photography enthusiast

> = 攝影愛好者

> photography addict

> = 攝影狂 / 極度沉迷攝影的人

The second is stronger and potentially negative.

---

# BD. ADDICT VS FAN

**fan**

= admirer/supporter.

**addict**

= someone strongly unable/unwilling to stop engaging.

> football fan

> ≠ football addict necessarily.

---

BE. ADDICT VS “JUNKIE”

**junkie**

informal/slang and can be stigmatizing/offensive, especially for substance use.

It is sometimes used figuratively:

> adrenaline junkie

But for careful learner usage:

> addict / enthusiast / thrill-seeker is usually safer depending on intended meaning.

---

BF. ADRENALINE JUNKIE

50. **adrenaline junkie = 追求高刺激的人**

Practice 85

> “He’s an **adrenaline junkie** who loves extreme sports.”

「他是個熱愛極限運動、**追求腎上腺素刺激的人**。」

Practice 86

> “Adrenaline junkie is informal.”

「**adrenaline junkie** 是非正式說法。」

Related conceptually to your earlier:

> thrill-seeker.

# BG. ADDICTIVE VS INTOXICATING

**intoxicating****

figuratively:

= so exciting/powerful that judgement feels affected.

**addictive****

= encourages repeated use.

> fame can feel intoxicating

> = 名氣令人陶醉 > social media can be addictive

> = 社交媒體令人上癮

Different metaphorical mechanisms.

---

# BH. ADDICTIVE VS IRRESISTIBLE

**irresistible****

= extremely difficult to resist in the moment.

**addictive****

= encourages repeated return over time.

A dessert may be irresistible once without being literally addictive.

# BI. ADDICTIVE VS MOREISH

51. **moreish = 好吃 / 好用得令人想再要更多****

Especially BrE, informal.

Practice 87

> “These biscuits are incredibly moreish.”

「這些餅乾好吃得令人想一塊接一塊吃。」

### Practice 88

> “Moreish is usually lighter and less clinical than addictive.”

「moreish 通常比 addictive 語氣輕鬆，沒有那麼臨床。」

Useful British-English contrast for food/snacks.

---

# BJ. ADDICTIVE VS BINGE-WORTHY

52. binge-worthy = 值得一口氣追看的；令人想連續追看的

Entertainment term.

### Practice 89

> “The series is extremely binge-worthy.”

「這套劇非常令人想一口氣追下去。」

### Practice 90

> “Binge-worthy is often a better choice than addictive for casual entertainment reviews.”

「在一般娛樂評論中，binge-worthy 往往比 addictive 更精準地表示『令人想連續追看』。」

---

# BK. ADDICTIVELY

53. addictively = in a way that makes repeated engagement hard to resist — 令人上癮地；令人欲罷不能地

Relatively uncommon.

### Practice 91

> “The game is addictively simple.”

「這款遊戲簡單得**令人欲罷不能**。」

### Practice 92

> “The snack is addictively crunchy.”

「這種零食香脆得**令人一吃就停不下來**。」

Register:

* informal

* advertising/review language

---

BL. “ADDICTIVELY PLAYABLE / WATCHABLE”

54. **addictively playable/watchable = 好玩 / 好看得停不下來**

### Practice 93

> “The game is addictively playable.”

「這款遊戲**好玩得令人停不下來**。」

### Practice 94

> “The series is addictively watchable.”

「這套劇**吸引得令人一集接一集看下去**。」

More stylistic than core vocabulary.

---

BM. “NON-ADDICTIVE”

55. **non-addictive = 非成癮性的；不易令人上癮的**

### Practice 95

> “The treatment aims to use a **non-addictive** alternative.”

「治療希望使用一種**非成癮性的替代方案**。」

### Practice 96

> “Non-addictive does not necessarily mean risk-free.”

「**非成癮性**並不等於完全沒有風險。」

BN. “POTENTIALLY ADDICTIVE”

56. **potentially addictive = 可能令人上癮的；有成癮潛力的**

Practice 97

> “The behaviour may be **potentially addictive**.”

「這種行為可能具有**成癮潛力**。」

Practice 98

> “Potentially addictive does not mean everyone will become addicted.”

「**有成癮潛力**並不代表每個人都會成癮。」

Important nuance.

---

BO. “ADDICTIVE PERSONALITY”

57. **addictive personality = 容易成癮的性格（通俗說法）**

A common phrase but conceptually loose.

Practice 99

> “People sometimes say they have an **addictive personality**.”

「人們有時會說自己有『**容易成癮的性格**』。」

Practice 100

> “The phrase is informal and should not be treated as a precise diagnosis.”

「這個說法屬非正式用語，不應視為精確診斷。」

Important register caution.

---

# BP. CLINICAL VS EVERYDAY USE

58. **addictive has two major registers**

Clinical/serious:

> “Nicotine is addictive.”

= 尼古丁具有成癮性。

Everyday hyperbole:

> “This show is addictive.”

= 這套劇好看到停不下來。

Same adjective, very different seriousness.

This is one of the most important distinctions.

# BQ. “I’M ADDICTED TO...” — LITERAL VS HYPERBOLE

59. **I’m addicted to X**

Can mean:

Literal:

> actual addiction/dependence

Casual:

> I really love it and do it constantly

Example:

> “I’m addicted to this game.”

could mean:

* genuinely problematic use

* casual exaggeration

Context decides.

---

# BR. ADDICTIVE VS ADDICTING

60. **addictive vs addicting**

**addictive**

= standard and much more widely accepted adjective.

**addicting**

= informal, especially AmE, meaning “causing addiction / hard to stop”.

Example:

> “This game is addictive.”  standard

> “This game is addicting.” △ informal/AmE

For formal learner English:

> prefer **addictive**.

---

# BS. ADDICTION VS “ADDICTIVENESS”

61. **addictiveness = degree to which something is addictive — 成癮性；成癮程度**

A valid but less common noun.

Practice 101

> “Researchers compared the **addictiveness** of different substances.”

「研究人員比較不同物質的**成癮性**。」

Practice 102

> “Addictiveness depends on several biological and behavioural factors.”

「**成癮性**取決於多項生物和行為因素。」

Useful technical family extension.

---

# BT. ADDICTIVE VS REWARDING

### **rewarding****

= gives satisfaction/benefit.

### **addictive****

= repeated reward is strong enough to encourage hard-to-control repetition.

Not every rewarding activity is addictive.

---

# BU. ADDICTIVE VS HABITUATING

### **habituating****

technical/rare:

= related to becoming accustomed to a stimulus.

### **addictive****

= can involve craving/compulsive repetition.

Different psychological processes.

---

# BV. ADDICTION VS TOLERANCE

### **addiction****

= compulsive pattern.

### **tolerance****

= reduced effect from same amount/exposure over time.

Tolerance can occur without addiction.

---

# BW. ADDICTION VS WITHDRAWAL

### **addiction**

= broader compulsive behavioural condition.

### **withdrawal**

= symptoms after stopping/reducing an adapted substance/behaviour.

Withdrawal can be one component, not the whole concept.

---

# BX. ADDICTION VS CRAVING

### **craving**

= strong urge.

### **addiction**

= broader pattern.

A craving can occur without full addiction.

---

# BY. ADDICTIVE VS DEPENDENCE — SOURCE-PASSAGE CONNECTION

Your passage earlier says:

> “enjoyment turned into **dependence**.”

Then later:

> social media “can also be **addictive**.”

These are related but not identical:

### **dependence**

= the writer’s state of increasingly relying on attention/checking.

**addictive**

= the property of social media that can promote repeated, hard-to-stop use.

So conceptually:

> **addictive system**

> → may create

> **dependence**

> → may, in stronger cases, contribute to

> **addiction**

Excellent semantic progression.

---

BZ. ADDICTIVE VS ATTENTION-GRABBING

**attention-grabbing**

= gets your attention.

**addictive**

= keeps bringing you back repeatedly.

Notifications can be:

> attention-grabbing

The overall platform use may become:

> addictive

Different stages.

---

CA. ADDICTIVE VS ENGAGEMENT-DRIVEN

**engagement-driven**

= designed around maximizing interaction.

**addictive**

= stronger evaluative claim that repeated use becomes difficult to control.

Do not treat them as synonyms.

# CB. ADDICTIVE VS PERSUASIVE DESIGN

### **persuasive design****

= design intended to influence behaviour.

### **addictive design****

= design described as encouraging repeated/compulsive use.

Persuasive design can encourage healthy behaviour too.

# CC. ADDICTIVE VS DARK PATTERN

### **dark pattern****

= interface intentionally designed to manipulate users into actions they might not otherwise choose.

### **addictive design****

= design encouraging repeated engagement.

They can overlap, but are not identical.

---

# CD. ADDICTIVE IN YOUR PASSAGE

The sentence is:

> “It can be a platform for humour, creativity and shared experience, but it can also be **addictive** and emotionally unpredictable.”

Here **addictive** means:

> **social media can repeatedly draw users back through notifications, likes, comments, views and social rewards, creating a strong urge to keep checking and seeking more attention.**

The earlier paragraph makes the mechanism explicit:

> “Every buzz seemed to demand my attention.”

> “I kept checking the latest numbers...”

> “The more attention I received, the more I wanted.”

> “enjoyment turned into dependence.”

So **addictive** is not random here; it summarizes the behavioural pattern already described.

Natural translation:

> **「它可以成為分享幽默、創意和共同經歷的平台，但也可能令人上癮，而且在情緒上難以預測。」**
