Important distinction: clip vs video

video

= any video content, short or long.

clip

= usually a short piece/extract.

> a 45-second clip

> = 45 秒短片

> a two-hour video

> = 兩小時影片

So clip strongly suggests brevity.

Important distinction: clip vs excerpt

clip

usually:

* video/audio extract

excerpt

usually:

* text, speech, book, article

* sometimes audio/video

> film clip

> = 電影片段

> book excerpt

> = 書本節錄

Important distinction: clip vs snippet

clip

= short media segment.

snippet

= very small piece of information, text, sound, or code.

> video clip

> = 影片片段

> code snippet

> = 程式碼片段

Important distinction: clip vs cut

cut

very broad:

= 切、剪、割、刪減

clip

often:

= quick small cut/trim

> clip the hedge

> = 修剪樹籬

> cut the tree down

> = 把樹砍倒

So clip often implies small-scale trimming rather than major cutting.

Important distinction: clip vs trim

trim

= make neat by cutting away excess.

clip

= cut quickly or shortly, often with scissors/clippers.

> trim a beard

> = 修整鬍鬚

> clip a beard short

> = 把鬍鬚剪短

Strong overlap.

Important distinction: clip vs fasten

fasten

broad:

= secure/attach.

clip

specific:

= attach using a clip-like mechanism.

> fasten the belt

> = 扣好安全帶

> clip the badge to your shirt

> = 把徽章夾到衣服上

Important distinction: clip — media vs clip — fastener

Media:

> “I watched a short clip.”

= 我看了一段短片。

Object:

> “I need a paper clip.”

= 我需要一個萬字夾。

Completely different noun senses.

Excellent MCQ contrast.

Important distinction: clip — cut vs clip — collide

Cut:

> “She clipped the hedge.”

= 她修剪樹籬。

Collide:

> “The car clipped the mirror.”

= 汽車擦撞了鏡子。

Same verb, very different action.

Important distinction: clipping — media?

Be careful:

> clip

> can mean a video extract.

But:

> clipping

> usually does not mean a video clip.

clipping more often means:

* something cut out

* newspaper clipping

* grass clippings

This is a useful family warning.

Important distinction: clipped tone

This does not mean:

> “a tone that was physically cut”.

It means:

> short, controlled, abrupt speech

Often suggests:

* impatience

* formality

* coldness

Family-extension sweep

After the full audit, the useful modern inventory includes:

* clip — video/audio = 短片 / 片段

* clip — fastener = 夾子 / 扣夾

* clip — attach = 夾住 / 扣上

* clip — cut/trim = 剪 / 修剪

* clip — hair/fur = 剪短

* clipping — cut piece = 剪下物 / 草屑

* newspaper clipping = 剪報

* clip — glancing hit = 擦撞 / 輕撞

* clip — move quickly = 快速前進

* at a good clip = 以相當快的速度

* clip — shorten content = 削減 / 截短

* clipped — speech = 簡短生硬 / 短促的

* clip — technical fastening = 固定夾 / 卡扣

* clip — ammunition holder = 彈藥夾具
