把不確定性納入考慮

EN. INCORPORATE RISK

143. incorporate risk into analysis

= include risk explicitly when analyzing/deciding 把風險納入分析

EO. INCORPORATE COSTS

144. incorporate costs

= include costs in a calculation/price/model 把成本計入

Practice

1. The estimate incorporates labor costs.
估算已計入人工成本。

This may naturally translate as 計入 rather than literal 納入.

EP. INCORPORATE TAX / FEES INTO PRICE

145. incorporate tax/fees into a price

= include them in the total price
把稅項／費用計入價格

EQ. INCORPORATE A BUFFER

146. incorporate a buffer

= deliberately include extra time/capacity/resources
預留緩衝；加入緩衝空間

ER. INCORPORATE CONTINGENCY

147. incorporate contingency into a plan/budget

= build allowance for unexpected events into planning
把應急／預備因素納入計畫或預算

ES. INCORPORATE MARGIN

148. incorporate a margin

= include an allowance/margin in calculation/design 加入裕度

ET. INCORPORATE vs INCLUDE

149. include

= contain or add something as one of the parts
包括; 包含

150. incorporate

= integrate it so that it becomes part of the structure/whole
納入; 融入; 整合

Compare:

The lesson includes a five-minute video.
課堂包括五分鐘影片。

The lesson incorporates video into the discussion activity.
課堂把影片融入討論活動之中。

Nuance

include is broader and more neutral.

incorporate often suggests:

integration, not merely presence.

This is a crucial distinction.

EU. INCORPORATE vs INTEGRATE

151. integrate

= combine parts so that they work/function together as a unified whole 整合 ; 融合

152. incorporate

= include something as a constituent part of a larger whole
納入 ; 融入

Very close.

Compare:

incorporate feedback into the draft 把意見納入草稿

integrate several systems
把幾個系統整合起來

Integrate often places more emphasis on harmonious functioning of the parts.

EV. INCORPORATE vs COMBINE

153. combine

= bring two or more things together
結合 ; 合併

154. incorporate

= bring something into an existing/larger whole 納入 ; 融入

Compare:

combine A and B
把 A 和 B 結合

incorporate A into B
把 A 融入 B

Very useful structural distinction.

EW. INCORPORATE vs MERGE

155. merge

= combine entities so their separate identities may partly/fully disappear
合併

156. incorporate

= make one thing part of another larger whole 併入; 納入

Compare:

Two departments merged.
兩個部門合併。

The smaller unit was incorporated into the larger department.
較小單位被併入較大的部門。

EX. INCORPORATE vs ADD

157. add

= put something extra in 加入

158. incorporate

= add and make it part of the whole 加入並融合／納入

Compare cooking:

Add the flour.
加入麵粉。

Incorporate the flour completely.
把麵粉完全拌勻。

EY. INCORPORATE vs MIX

159. mix

= physically combine substances
混合

160. incorporate

Cooking/materials:

= mix one component into the rest until it becomes part of the whole 拌入；混合均勻

Mix is broader.

EZ. INCORPORATE vs FOLD IN — COOKING

161. fold in

= gently combine a light ingredient/mixture while preserving air 輕輕拌入；翻拌

162. incorporate

= broader: mix completely into the whole 混入／拌勻

A recipe may say:

fold in the flour until incorporated.

Meaning:

輕輕翻拌麵粉，直至完全混合。

FA. INCORPORATE vs BLEND

163. blend

= mix components smoothly/thoroughly
混合；調和

164. incorporate

= make a component part of the whole 混入；融合

Strong overlap in cooking/materials.

FB. INCORPORATE vs EMBED

165. embed

= fix/place something firmly within another material/system 嵌入

166. incorporate

= broader integration into a whole 納入; 整合

Compare:

sensors embedded in concrete 嵌入混凝土中的感應器

sensors incorporated into the design 設計中整合的感應器

FC. INCORPORATE vs ABSORB

167. absorb

= take something in 吸收

168. incorporate

= make what is taken in part of the resulting whole
納入; 融合

In biology:

a cell absorbs a nutrient 細胞吸收養分 then may:

incorporate it into new tissue
把它納入新組織

Useful scientific distinction.

FD. INCORPORATE vs ASSIMILATE

169. assimilate

= absorb and integrate information, culture, nutrients, etc. into an existing system
吸收; 同化

170. incorporate

= make something part of the whole, without necessarily implying loss of its distinctness
納入; 融入

Assimilate can carry additional biological/social meanings not present in incorporate.

FE. INCORPORATE vs ADOPT

171. adopt a suggestion/policy/method

= choose to accept/use it 採納

172. incorporate a suggestion

= integrate it into an existing draft/plan/system 把建議納入

Compare:

We adopted her proposal.
我們採納她的方案。

We incorporated her suggestion into our proposal.
我們把她的建議納入自己的方案。

FF. INCORPORATE vs IMPLEMENT

173. incorporate

= include as part of a design/plan/system
納入

174. implement

= put a plan/policy/system into actual operation 實施

A plan can:

incorporate a new policy

before the organization:

implements it.

FG. INCORPORATE vs APPLY

175. incorporate

= make something part of a larger whole
納入／融入

176. apply

= use something in a specific situation
應用／運用

Compare:

incorporate a theory into the course 把理論納入課程

apply the theory to a case
把理論應用於個案

FH. INCORPORATE vs CONTAIN

177. contain

= have something inside
含有; 包含

178. incorporate

= deliberately integrate/include something
納入; 融入

A product may contain something accidentally/naturally, whereas incorporate often implies design/process.

FI. INCORPORATE vs CONSIST OF

179. consist of

= be made up of components
由.....組成

180. incorporate

= include certain components within itself 包含並整合

Compare:

The course consists of six units.
課程由六個單元組成。

The course incorporates practical exercises.
課程融入實踐練習。

FJ. INCORPORATE vs COMPRISE

181. comprise

= consist of / include as components
由.....組成; 包括

182. incorporate

= make components part of an integrated whole
納入; 融合

FK. INCORPORATE vs EMBODY

183. embody

= visibly/concretely express a principle, quality, idea, etc.
體現

184. incorporate

= include the principle/feature as part of something 納入

Compare:

The design incorporates principles of accessibility.
設計納入無障礙原則。

The design embodies simplicity.
設計體現簡約精神。

FL. INCORPORATE vs ACCOUNT FOR

185. incorporate a factor

= include it directly in a model/calculation 把因素納入

186. account for a factor

= take it into consideration/explain it 考慮／解釋該因素

Close in analytical writing but not identical.

FM. INCORPORATE vs TAKE INTO ACCOUNT

187. take X into account

= consider X in making a decision/calculation
把 X 納入考慮

188. incorporate X

= build X into the actual plan/model/system
實際把 X 納入其中

A factor may be considered without literally being structurally incorporated.

FN. INCORPORATE vs INTEGRATE — CORPORATE WARNING

Incorporate a company

means:

legally form/register a company

It does not mean merely:

integrate a company with another company.

For company combination, words such as:

- merge
- acquire
- consolidate

may be more appropriate depending on the transaction.

FO. INCORPORATED vs CORPORATE

189. incorporated

= formally legally incorporated 已註冊成立為公司的／法人的

190. corporate

= relating to corporations/business companies generally 公司的；企業的

Not synonyms.

FP. INCORPORATED vs LIMITED

191. incorporated

= describes corporate/legal formation 已註冊成立的

192. limited

= may form part of a company's specific legal designation in certain jurisdictions 有限公司類型的法律名稱元素

The exact relationship depends on local corporate law.

FQ. INCORPORATED vs REGISTERED

193. registered

= formally entered on an official register
已登記／已註冊

194. incorporated

= specifically formed as an incorporated legal entity
已註冊成立為法人／公司

A business can be registered for some purpose without necessarily having the same legal form implied by incorporated.

FR. INCORPORATION vs REGISTRATION

195. incorporation

= formation of an incorporated legal entity
公司／法人註冊成立

196. registration

= broader act of entering something on an official register 登記；註冊

FS. INCORPORATION vs MERGER

197. incorporation

= company/entity formation or integration into a whole 公司成立；納入

198. merger

= two organizations/businesses combine
合併

Completely different corporate processes.

FT. INCORPORATION vs ACQUISITION

199. acquisition

= one entity obtains control/ownership of another 收購

200. incorporation

= legal formation or inclusion
註冊成立／納入

Do not confuse.

FU. INCORPORATION vs CONSOLIDATION

201. consolidation

= combination/strengthening into a more unified whole 整合; 合併

202. incorporation

= inclusion into a whole or corporate formation
納入; 公司化

FV. INCORPORATED — PARTICIPIAL ADJECTIVE

203. incorporated

General:

= included/integrated as part of something 已納入的; 已融入的

Practice

1. The revised version contains all incorporated changes.

More natural English would often say:

all changes have been incorporated.

So attributive incorporated changes is possible but less elegant.

FW. FULLY INCORPORATED — FOOD / MATERIALS

204. fully incorporated

= completely mixed/integrated 完全混合／融合

FX. NEWLY INCORPORATED — CORPORATE

205. newly incorporated company

= company recently legally incorporated 新註冊成立的公司

FY. INCORPORATING — PARTICIPIAL USE

206. incorporating

納入／融入中的；包含.....的

Example

a course incorporating drama and debate

一個融入戲劇和辯論的課程

FZ. INCORPORATION — FOOD/MATERIALS

207. incorporation

= process by which an ingredient/material becomes mixed into another 混入 ; 掺入 ; 融合

Example

air incorporation
空氣掺入 / 打氣

GA. AIR INCORPORATION — FOOD SCIENCE

208. air incorporation

= introduction/retention of air bubbles in food mixtures 空氣掺入 ; 充氣

Used in products such as:

- whipped mixtures
- batters
- foams
- frozen desserts

Specialist food-science term.

GB. FAT INCORPORATION — FOOD SCIENCE

209. fat incorporation

= integration/distribution of fat within a food matrix 油脂混入／摻入

GC. INGREDIENT INCORPORATION

210. ingredient incorporation

= process of mixing ingredient into formulation 配料混合；材料納入

GD. HOMOGENEOUS INCORPORATION

211. homogeneous incorporation

= incorporation evenly throughout a material/mixture 均勻混合／均勻摻入

Technical.

GE. KEY GRAMMAR — INCORPORATE + OBJECT

212. incorporate something

The design incorporates new safety features.

設計加入了新的安全功能。

No preposition is required when only naming what is included.

GF. INCORPORATE X INTO Y

213. incorporate X into Y

Incorporate the feedback into the final version.

把回饋納入最終版本。

GG. INCORPORATE X IN Y

214. incorporate X in Y

The changes were incorporated in the report.

這些修改已納入報告。

GH. BE INCORPORATED INTO

215. be incorporated into

Drama was incorporated into the curriculum.

戲劇被納入課程。

GI. INCORPORATE WITH — CAUTION

Incorporate with exists in limited contexts, especially when describing combination, but for learner English the safer central patterns are:

- incorporate X into Y
- X is incorporated into/in Y
- incorporate X

Do not automatically use with.

GJ. INCORPORATE SOMETHING AS

216. incorporate something as a component/feature

= include it in a particular role
把.....納入並作為.....

Practice

1. Reflection was incorporated as a regular part of the activity.
反思被納入並成為活動的固定部分。

GK. INCORPORATE SOMETHING THROUGH

217. incorporate something through a method

= include it by using a particular mechanism
透過某方法把.....融入

Less fixed grammar, context-dependent.

GL. CAN BE INCORPORATED

218. can be incorporated

= can feasibly be included/integrated 可以納入／融入

Practice

1. Short performances can easily be incorporated into lessons.
短劇表演很容易融入課堂。

GM. EASY / DIFFICULT TO INCORPORATE

219. easy to incorporate

容易納入／融合

220. difficult to incorporate

難以納入／整合

GN. SEAMLESSLY INCORPORATE

221. seamlessly incorporate

= integrate without disrupting the overall whole 無縫整合；自然融入

Practice

1. The designer seamlessly incorporated the new feature.
設計師把新功能自然地整合進去。

GO. EFFECTIVELY INCORPORATE

222. effectively incorporate

= integrate in a useful/successful way
有效地融入／納入

GP. FULLY INCORPORATE — ABSTRACT

223. fully incorporate feedback/requirements

= integrate all relevant parts completely 全面納入

GQ. PARTIALLY INCORPORATE

224. partially incorporate

= include only some elements 部分納入

Practice

1. The final version partially incorporated the recommendations.
最終版本只部分採納那些建議。

GR. FAIL TO INCORPORATE

225. fail to incorporate

= omit something that should have been integrated 未有納入

Practice

1. The proposal failed to incorporate student feedback.
提案未有納入學生意見。

GS. INCORPORATE WITHOUT ALTERING THE CORE

226. incorporate while retaining something

= include new material without losing original structure/identity 在保留核心的同時融入新元素

Common design/writing idea, not a separate dictionary sense.

GT. CORE SEMANTIC DISTINCTION — PRESENCE vs INTEGRATION

Compare:

The lesson includes a video.

This only tells us:

there is a video somewhere in the lesson.

But:

The lesson incorporates the video into a discussion task.

This suggests:

the video has been integrated into how the lesson works.

That deeper integration nuance is central to incorporate.

GU. PASSAGE CONNECTION — INCORPORATE vs ADD

In the passage:

teachers are incorporating role-play ... into lessons is stronger than simply:

teachers are adding role-play.

Adding may suggest one extra activity.

Incorporating suggests the drama activity becomes part of the lesson's educational design.

This is why 融入 is often the best Traditional Chinese translation.

GV. PASSAGE CONNECTION — INCORPORATE vs USE

teachers use drama

means:

老師使用戲劇活動 while:

teachers incorporate drama into lessons

means:

戲劇活動被整合成課堂的一部分

The second highlights integration into the lesson structure.

GW. PASSAGE CONNECTION — INCORPORATE vs INCLUDE include drama

= 課堂包括戲劇

incorporate drama

= 把戲劇融入課堂

For the passage, 融入 captures the nuance especially well.

GX. WORD-FAMILY SWEEP

227. incorporate — general inclusion

= make something part of a larger whole

納入；融入；整合

228. incorporate — physical mixing

= mix an ingredient/material into another whole

拌入；混入；摻入

229. incorporate — corporate law

= legally form/register an incorporated company/entity

註冊成立公司／法人

230. incorporated — general

= included as part of a whole

已納入的

231. incorporated — corporate

= legally constituted as a corporation/entity
已註冊成立為法人／公司的

232. incorporation — general

= process of inclusion/integration
納入；融合

233. incorporation — corporate

= legal formation of company/entity
公司註冊成立；法人化

234. incorporator

= person formally involved in establishing a corporation 公司發起成立人

235. reincorporate

= incorporate again / under a new legal arrangement
重新註冊成立

236. reincorporation

= process of reincorporating
重新註冊成立

237. unincorporated

= not legally incorporated 未法人化／未註冊成立為公司的

GY. IMPORTANT LOW-PRIORITY FORM — INCORPORATE AS ADJECTIVE

238. incorporate — rare/formal adjective

Historically/formally, incorporate can function adjectivally with meanings related to:

united in one body / incorporated

but this is rare in modern general learner English.

For modern use, prefer:

incorporated

So it should not be treated as a high-priority MCQ sense.

GZ. SEMANTIC MAP

The central concept of INCORPORATE is:

take something that was separate and make it part of a larger whole

From this, several branches develop.

A. Teaching / plans / writing

Passage

incorporate role-play into lessons
→ 把角色扮演融入課堂

Also:

incorporate feedback
→ 納入回饋 incorporate evidence → 納入證據

incorporate changes
→ 納入修改

B. Design / technology / systems

incorporate safety features

→ 整合安全功能

incorporate technology into teaching

→ 把科技融入教學

C. Food / physical mixtures incorporate flour into batter

→ 把麵粉拌入麵糊

incorporate air

→ 打入／混入空氣

mix until incorporated

→ 攪拌至完全混合

D. Materials / science

incorporate fibres into a composite

→ 把纖維摻入複合材料

incorporate nucleotides into DNA

→ 把核苷酸加入 DNA 鏈

E. Organization

incorporate a smaller unit into a larger department

→ 把較小單位併入大部門

F. Corporate law

incorporate a company
→ 註冊成立公司 certificate of incorporation

→ 公司註冊證明書

G. Documents / contracts

incorporate by reference
→ 以引用方式納入

H. Linguistics

noun incorporation
→ 名詞併入

The common semantic thread remains:

separate element → constituent part of a larger whole

The corporate-law sense is historically especially transparent:

multiple people/assets are formally constituted into one legal body.

implement	put a plan/system into operation	實施
apply	use something in a particular case	應用

The most important distinction for the passage is:

include drama in a lesson

= 課堂中有戲劇活動 versus:

incorporate drama into a lesson

= 把戲劇活動融入整個教學設計中

HC. PASSAGE RECAP

“However, with more teachers incorporating role-play, hot-seating and short performances into lessons, I believe schools are considering drama not to entertain students, but to help them understand ideas more deeply, remember them more vividly and speak with greater confidence.”

Here:

incorporate

= to include something and integrate it so that it becomes part of a larger whole

Best Traditional Chinese:

- 融入
- 納入
- 整合進
- contextually: 把.....融入課堂

Natural contextual translation:

然而，隨著越來越多老師把角色扮演、熱椅活動和短劇表演融入課堂，我相信學校考慮採用戲劇並不是為了娛樂學生，而是為了幫助他們更深入理解概念、更生動地記住內容，並更有自信地表達。

Passage MCQ-ready meaning

incorporate

= to make something part of a larger whole by including and integrating it

納入; 融入; 整合

The largest learner branches are:

incorporate drama into lessons

→ 把戲劇融入課堂

incorporate feedback into a draft

→ 把回饋納入草稿

incorporate safety features into a design

→ 把安全功能融入設計

Food gives an important concrete branch:

incorporate flour into the batter

→ 把麵粉拌入麵糊

mix until fully incorporated

→ 攪拌至完全混合

Science extends the same physical idea:

incorporate nucleotides into DNA

→ 把核苷酸加入 DNA 鏈

A major separate legal/business branch is:

incorporate a company

→ 正式註冊成立公司／法人

with:

incorporation

→ 公司註冊成立

certificate of incorporation

→ 公司註冊證明書

Inc.

→ Incorporated 的公司名稱縮寫

Formal document language adds:

incorporate by reference

→ 以引用方式把外部文件／條款納入

Linguistics adds:

noun incorporation

→ 名詞併入

The strongest semantic shortcut is:

INCORPORATE = separate thing → becomes a constituent part of a larger whole.

That whole may be:

- a lesson,
- a plan,
- a document,
- a recipe,
- a material,
- a biological structure,
- a computer system,
- an organization,
- or a legal corporation.

In the passage, incorporating is therefore stronger than simply adding. The writer is describing teachers who make drama techniques part of the actual design and operation of ordinary lessons, rather than treating drama as a separate entertainment activity.
