Important distinction: pepper — vegetable vs pepper — spice

This is the biggest distinction.

Vegetable:

> “a red pepper”

Usually:

甜椒 / 椒類果實

Spice:

> “black pepper”

= 黑胡椒

They come from different plants.

So:

> chilli pepper

> bell pepper

belong to Capsicum.

> black pepper

> white pepper

come from the Piper nigrum pepper plant.

The English word pepper covers both, but botanically they are different.

Important distinction: pepper vs chilli

chilli/chili

usually refers specifically to hot Capsicum fruits.

pepper

broader and can refer to:

* sweet Capsicum peppers;

* chilli peppers;

* pepper spice.

Therefore:

> pepper

cannot always simply be translated as 「辣椒」.

Important distinction: pepper vs bell pepper

Especially regional.

American English

- > pepper can be broad
- > bell pepper specifically means sweet, non-hot pepper.

British English

- > pepper by itself very commonly means what Americans call a bell pepper.

So:

- > “Slice a red pepper.”

in British English generally means:

「切一個紅甜椒。」

Important distinction: chilli pepper vs peppercorn

chilli pepper

= 辣椒果實

peppercorn

= 胡椒粒

Completely different plants and culinary roles.

Important distinction: pepper vs peppery

pepper

noun:

- > black pepper

peppery

adjective:

> peppery flavour

= 帶有胡椒般辛香刺激的味道

Peppery can describe something that contains no actual pepper but tastes similarly sharp.

Important distinction: pepper with vs cover with cover with

may imply a surface is extensively covered.

pepper with

suggests many small, separate items scattered throughout.

> “The field was covered with flowers.”

= 花很多，大片覆蓋。

> “The field was peppered with flowers.”

= 花朵*零星而大量地散布*在各處。

That scattering image is important.

Important distinction: pepper with questions vs ask questions

ask questions

neutral.

pepper someone with questions

means:

* many;

* rapid;

* repeated;

* often intense.

> “The reporters asked questions.”

neutral.

> “The reporters peppered him with questions.”

「記者連珠炮般發問。」

Family-extension sweep

After the full audit, the useful modern family includes:

- * pepper — Capsicum fruit = 椒 / 甜椒 / 辣椒類
- * chilli pepper = 辣椒
- * bell pepper = 甜椒 / 彩椒
- * pepper — spice = 胡椒 / 胡椒粉
- * black pepper = 黑胡椒
- * white pepper = 白胡椒
- * peppercorn = 胡椒粒
- * peppery = 有胡椒味 / 辛香刺激的
- * pepper food = 加胡椒
- * pepper something with X = 到處散布 / 穿插大量 X
- * pepper someone with questions = 接連大量發問
- * pepper with bullets/shots = 密集擊中
- * pepper spray = 胡椒噴霧
- * peppermint = 胡椒薄荷 / 薄荷味
- * pepper mill/grinder = 胡椒研磨器

This family is semantically rich, but I would not add obscure pepper species or culinary compounds that simply name particular ingredients.
