BW. POPULARITY VS RECOGNITION

recognition

= being noticed/acknowledged.

popularity

= being liked.

Recognition may exist without popularity.

BX. POPULARITY VS ATTENTION

attention

= people are focusing on something.

popularity

= people have a positive preference for it.

Negative controversy can generate huge attention without popularity.

BY. POPULARITY VS VIRALITY

You curated viral.

virality

= speed/extent of spread.

popularity

= degree of liking/preference.

Content can go viral because people hate-watch, mock, debate, or criticize it.

So:

> viral ≠ popular automatically.

Extremely relevant to your passage.

BZ. POPULARITY VS TRENDING

trending

= currently receiving rapidly increasing attention/discussion.

popular

= generally liked/used by many people.

A trend can be temporary.

A popular product may remain popular without currently trending.

CA. POPULARITY VS DEMAND

popularity

= liking/preference.

demand

= willingness/need to obtain/buy something.

A product can be popular culturally but have low commercial demand due to price or availability.

CB. POPULARITY VS MARKET SHARE

popularity

= preference/liking.

market share

= actual proportion of sales/users.

A brand can score high in popularity surveys but still have lower market share.

CC. POPULARITY VS USAGE

popularity

= positive preference.

= actual use.

Something may be widely used because it is necessary, not because it is popular.

CD. POPULARITY VS ADOPTION

adoption

= beginning to use something.

popularity

= degree of widespread liking/use.

Adoption can lead to popularity, but the terms differ.

CE. POPULARITY VS TREND

= direction/pattern of change or fashionable tendency.

popularity

= current level of liking.

A trend may increase popularity.

CF. POPULARITY VS FASHIONABILITY

fashionable

= currently stylish/trendy.

= liked by many.

Something can remain popular even when it is no longer fashionable.

CG. POPULAR VS COMMON

popular

= liked or widely used because people prefer it.

common

= frequently occurring.

> common mistake

> = 常見錯誤

does not mean:

> popular mistake

A mistake can be common but certainly not popular.

Excellent learner trap.

CH. POPULAR VS WIDESPREAD

widespread

= exists/is found across many places/people.

popular

= liked/accepted by many.

A disease can be widespread but not popular.

CI. POPULAR VS FAMOUS

popular

= liked.

famous

= known.

> popular teacher

> = 很受學生歡迎的老師 > famous teacher

> = 很多人知道的老師

Different.

CJ. POPULAR VS WELL-KNOWN

well-known

= many people know it.

popular

= many people like it.

Again:

> recognition vs preference.

CK. POPULAR VS SUCCESSFUL

successful

= achieves objectives.

= liked/used by many.

A policy/product can be successful by its goals without being popular.

Conversely, something can be popular but ineffective.

CL. POPULAR VS MAINSTREAM

mainstream

= accepted/dominant within general culture.

= liked by many.

Something can be mainstream but not especially beloved.

CM. POPULAR VS MASS-MARKET

mass-market

popular

= actually liked by many people.

Mass-market positioning does not guarantee popularity.

CN. POPULAR CULTURE VS HIGH CULTURE

popular culture

= mass-consumed culture.

high culture

= traditionally elite/prestigious arts and intellectual culture.

This is a cultural-studies contrast, not a value judgement that one is better.

CO. POPULAR SCIENCE VS ACADEMIC SCIENCE

popular science

= science explained for general readers.

academic/scientific literature

= specialist scholarly communication.

Popular science can still be rigorous, but its audience and style differ.

CP. POPULAR BELIEF VS FACT

popular belief

= widely held belief.

= proposition supported as true by evidence.

A popular belief may be false.

Very important academic distinction.

CQ. POPULAR OPINION VS EXPERT OPINION

popular opinion

= what the general public tends to think.

expert opinion

= judgement from specialists.

Neither term by itself determines truth.

CR. POPULARITY VS PRESTIGE

popularity

= being liked.

= respect/status.

A product or person can be:

* prestigious but not widely popular

* highly popular but low-prestige.

CS. POPULARITY VS REPUTATION

popularity

= degree of liking.

reputation

= what people believe about quality/character.

A person can be unpopular but have a reputation for competence.

CT. POPULARITY VS LIKEABILITY

likeability / likability

= quality of being easy/pleasant to like.

popularity

= actual degree of being liked by many people.

Someone can be naturally likable but not widely known enough to be popular.

CU. POPULARITY VS SOCIAL STATUS

social status

= rank/prestige/position within a group.

popularity

= how liked someone is.

They can correlate but are not identical.

CV. POPULARITY VS PEER APPROVAL

peer approval

= positive judgement from peers.

popularity

= overall degree of being liked among peers.

Approval can contribute to popularity.

CW. POPULARITY VS SELF-WORTH

This is central to your passage.

popularity

= external social reaction.

self-worth

= internal sense of personal value.

The passage warns against allowing:

> popularity

to become:

> the foundation of self-worth.

CX. POPULARITY AND NUMBERS

In social media, popularity may be operationalized through:

- * likes
- * follows
- * shares
- * views
- * comments

But these are only metrics/proxies.

They are not identical to popularity itself.

Example:

> 100,000 views can mean attention, not necessarily 100,000 people liking the content.

Very important passage nuance.

CY. "MOST POPULAR"

67. most popular = 最受歡迎的

Practice 129

> "This is the platform's most popular video."

「這是平台上最受歡迎的影片。」

Practice 130

> "It became the most popular item on the menu."

「它成為餐牌上最受歡迎的項目。」

CZ. “ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR”

68. one of the most popular = 最受歡迎的.....之一

Practice 131

> “The app is one of the most popular among students.”

「這個應用程式是學生之間最受歡迎的之一。」

Practice 132

> “It remains one of the most popular tourist sites.”

「它仍然是最受歡迎的旅遊景點之一。」

DA. “EVER-POPULAR”

69. ever-popular = 一直很受歡迎的

Practice 133

> “The ever-popular dish remains on the menu.”

「這道長期深受歡迎的菜式仍然留在餐牌上。」

Practice 134

> “The ever-popular song closed the concert.”

「演唱會以這首一直廣受歡迎的歌曲作結。」

DB. “UNPOPULAR”

70. unpopular = 不受歡迎的；不得人心的

A major opposite.

「這項規則很不受學生歡迎。」

Practice 138

> “The update was unpopular with long-term users.”

「這次更新很不受長期使用者歡迎。」

DD. UNPOPULARITY

72. unpopularity = 不受歡迎；低人氣

Practice 139

> “The policy’s unpopularity became obvious.”

「這項政策的不得人心 / 不受歡迎程度變得很明顯。」

Practice 140

> “The product was withdrawn because of its unpopularity.”

「產品因為不受歡迎而停售。」

DE. POPULARITY IN POLLING / PUBLIC OPINION

73. popularity = level of public liking/support — 公眾支持度；人氣

Practice 141

> “The survey measured the leader’s popularity among respondents.”

「調查量度受訪者對該領導人物的支持 / 喜愛程度。」

Practice 142

> “Public popularity can rise or fall quickly.”

「公眾支持度 / 人氣可以快速升跌。」

Important distinction:

popularity polling measures liking/support, not necessarily job approval, vote intention, or election outcome.

DF. POPULARITY VS APPROVAL RATING

You curated approval.

popularity

= how much people like someone.

approval rating

= how many approve of how someone is performing a role.

A public figure can be:

> personally popular

while receiving:

> lower approval for a particular performance/decision.

Different measures.

DG. POPULARITY VS ELECTORAL SUPPORT

popularity

= broad public liking.

electoral support

= willingness/intention to vote for a candidate/party.

Not equivalent.

Someone may like a person but not support them electorally.

DH. POPULAR = "OF THE PEOPLE"

This is the important historical/semantic branch underlying phrases like:

- * popular vote
- * popular sovereignty
- * popular movement
- * popular culture

Here popular derives conceptually from:

> the general population / ordinary people not necessarily:

> "widely liked".

This branch should remain separate from the likability sense.

DI. ETYMOLOGICAL / SEMANTIC MAP

The family roughly branches like this:

> people / the general public

from which two major modern ideas develop:

1. liked/used by many people

- * popular person
- * popular product
- * popularity

2. of / intended for / among ordinary people

- * popular culture
- * popular science
- * popular opinion
- * popular vote

This explains why:

> popular science

does not mean:

> “science everyone loves”.

It means:

> science presented for the general public.

DJ. PRONUNCIATION

popular /'pɒpjələ(r)/ BrE, /'pɑːpjələr/ AmE popularity /ˌpɒpjə'lærəti/ BrE, /ˌpɑːpjə'lerəti/ AmE popularise/popularize /'pɒpjələraɪz/ ~ /'pɑːpjələraɪz/

Important stress shift:

> POPular

> popuLARity

The main stress moves.

Useful pronunciation-family note.
