

Absolutely — and I've got the adjustment: when a closely related family member develops a useful modern meaning of its own (like busy → busybody), I'll flag it wherever it is genuinely useful, even if it is not simply another inflection of the base word.

Word family: noise / noisy / noisier / noisiest / noisily / noisiness / noise-cancelling

Base word: noise

Adjective: noisy

Comparative: noisier

Superlative: noisiest

Adverb: noisily

Noun: noisiness

Useful compound: noise-cancelling

Part of speech: noun(名詞) / adjective(形容詞) / adverb(副詞)

Your phrase:

> “a packed train, a busy café, and a noisy office”

Meaning in this passage

Meaning: Producing or containing a lot of sound, especially sound that is distracting, unpleasant, or difficult to ignore.

繁體中文: 有很多明顯聲音同時出現, 令環境嘈吵並容易干擾人的注意力或造成不適的

中文翻譯:

> “a packed train, a busy café, and a noisy office”

「一列擠滿乘客的火車、一間繁忙的咖啡店, 以及一個充滿各種聲音、十分嘈吵的辦公室」 noisy office = 有很多談話聲、電話聲、設備聲等, 令環境十分嘈吵的辦公室

1. noisy = place/environment(地方／環境) containing a lot of sound — 嘈吵的; 充滿大量聲音的

This is the meaning in your original passage.

Meaning: A place where many loud or distracting sounds can be heard.

Practice 1 — Original

> “a packed train, a busy café, and a noisy office”

「一列擠滿乘客的火車、一間繁忙的咖啡店，以及一個充滿大量聲音、十分嘈吵的辦公室。」

Practice 2

> “The restaurant became very noisy during dinner.”

「晚餐時段，餐廳變得很多聲音同時出現，非常嘈吵。」

Practice 3

> “It is difficult to concentrate in a noisy classroom.”

「在充滿談話聲和其他聲響的嘈吵課室裡很難集中精神。」 noisy place = 環境中有大量明顯聲音，以致令人感到嘈吵或受到干擾的

2. noisy = person/group (人／群體) making a lot of loud sound — 說話或活動聲音很大的；吵鬧的

Meaning: A person or group that talks, laughs, shouts, plays, etc. loudly.

Practice 4

> “The children were extremely noisy this morning.”

「孩子們今天早上不停大聲說話和活動，非常吵鬧。」

Practice 5

> “A noisy group of tourists entered the café.”

「一群說話和活動聲音很大的遊客走進咖啡店。」 noisy person/group = 因說話、叫喊、嬉戲或活動而發出很多大聲聲響的人或群體

3. noisy = machine/object/activity (機器／物件／活動) producing a lot of sound — 運作時發出很大聲響的

Meaning: Producing a large amount of sound when operating or being used.

Practice 6

> “The old air conditioner is very noisy.”

「那部舊冷氣機*運作時會發出很大的聲音*。」

Practice 7

> “Construction work can be extremely noisy.”

「建築工程進行時可能會*產生非常大的噪音*。」 noisy machine/activity = 在運作或進行時產生大量明顯聲響的

So these are all the same broad physical concept:

* noisy office → 地方充滿聲音

* noisy children → 人製造很多聲音

* noisy machine → 機器產生很多聲音

I would not treat them as completely separate lexical meanings; they are contextual branches of the same core sense.

4. noise = unwanted/unpleasant sound (不需要／令人不舒服的聲音) — 噪音; 嘈雜聲

Here, noise is a noun.

Meaning: Sound, especially sound that is unwanted, unpleasant, distracting, or disruptive.

Practice 8

> “I couldn’t sleep because of the traffic noise.”

「我因為交通*噪音*而無法入睡。」

Practice 9

> “The headphones block out most background noise.”

「這副耳機能隔絕大部分背景*噪音*。」 noise = 不需要、令人不舒服或會造成干擾的聲音

5. noise = sound in general (可聽見的聲響) — 聲音; 聲響

Meaning: A sound, especially one that is noticeable even if it is not necessarily unpleasant.

Practice 10

> “I heard a strange noise downstairs.”

「我聽到樓下傳來一陣奇怪的聲響。」

Practice 11

> “The engine suddenly made a clicking noise.”

「引擎突然發出一陣喀喀的聲音。」

a noise = 某個可以被聽見、可辨認的聲響

Important nuance:

noise does not always mean 「很嘈吵」.

> “I heard a noise.”

could simply mean:

「我聽到一個聲音。」

6. background noise (環境中非主要聲音) — 背景噪音; 背景聲

Meaning: Sound present in the environment that is not the main sound you want to hear.

Practice 12

> “There was too much background noise during the call.”

「通話期間有太多背景噪音, 干擾了主要聲音。」

Practice 13

> “The microphone reduces background noise.”

「這個麥克風能減少環境中的背景雜音。」 background noise = 在主要聲音以外同時存在、可能干擾聆聽的環境聲音

7. noise-cancelling = headphones/technology (耳機／技術) reducing unwanted surrounding sound — 主動減少環境噪音的; 降噪的

This is especially important because your larger passage is about noise-cancelling headphones.

Meaning: Designed to reduce unwanted surrounding sounds, often by generating sound waves that counteract external noise.

Practice 14

> “I bought a pair of noise-cancelling headphones for my commute.”

「我買了一副能減少周圍環境噪音的降噪耳機，在通勤時使用。」

Practice 15

> “The noise-cancelling feature works well on planes.”

「這項降噪功能在飛機上效果很好。」 noise-cancelling = 利用技術減弱或抵消周圍不需要的聲音的

Useful distinction:

* noise-isolating → 主要靠物理密封阻隔聲音

* noise-cancelling → 通常利用電子技術主動抵消外界噪音

8. noise = signal interference (訊號中的干擾) — 雜訊; 干擾訊號

This is a genuinely important technical extension.

Meaning: Unwanted random interference that makes an electronic, audio, radio, visual, or communication signal less clear.

Practice 16

> “There is too much noise in the audio signal.”

「音訊訊號中有太多*干擾雜訊，令聲音不夠清晰***。」

Practice 17

> “Engineers tried to reduce the noise in the transmission.”

「工程師嘗試減少傳輸訊號中的*干擾雜訊*。」 *noise = 混入主要訊號中的不需要干擾，使真正訊息變得較難辨認***

Here, noise does not necessarily mean literal loud sound.

9. *noisy = signal/data/measurement (訊號／數據／測量) containing substantial random interference — 含大量雜訊或隨機誤差的***

Meaning: Containing unwanted variation, interference, or errors that make the underlying information difficult to identify.

Practice 18

> “The sensor produced very noisy data.”

「感應器產生的數據*包含大量隨機波動和誤差，令真正趨勢不容易辨認***。」

> “The signal is too noisy to analyse accurately.”

「訊號中*干擾成分太多*，無法準確分析。」 *noisy data/signal = 混有大量隨機干擾或誤差，以致真正訊息難以辨認的***

This use is common in:

- * statistics
- * science
- * engineering
- * machine learning
- * data analysis

10. noise = irrelevant information obscuring useful information (資訊中的干擾內容) — 無關資訊; 資訊雜訊

This is the broader figurative development of #8.

Meaning: Irrelevant, distracting, or excessive information that makes the important information harder to identify.

Practice 20

> “We need to separate the useful information from the noise.”

「我們需要把真正有用的資訊從大量無關干擾資訊中分辨出來。」

Practice 21

> “Social media can contain a lot of noise.”

「社交媒體上可能充斥很多沒有實際價值、會干擾重要資訊的內容。」 noise = 大量無關、次要或令人分心的資訊, 使真正重要的訊息變得不清楚

A very useful contrast is:

signal vs noise

* signal = 真正有用、值得注意的資訊

* noise = 干擾、無關或隨機資訊

11. noisy = image/photo (影像／照片) containing visible random grain or distortion — 雜訊很多、畫面粗糙不清的

Meaning: An image containing unwanted random variation, grain, speckles, or distortion.

> “Photos taken in very low light can look noisy.”

「在極低光環境下拍攝的照片可能會出現大量影像雜訊和顆粒感。」

Practice 23

> “The image becomes noisier at high ISO settings.”

「使用較高 ISO 時，影像會出現更多隨機顆粒和視覺雜訊。」

noisy image = 含有大量隨機顆粒、斑點或其他影像雜訊，使畫質下降的

This is really the visual version of the technical signal noise meaning, so I would group them conceptually rather than pretend they are unrelated.

12. noisy = design/colour/style(設計／色彩／風格)visually loud and attention-grabbing — 視覺上過分搶眼、繁雜的

This figurative use is worth including.

Meaning: Visually very strong, bright, complicated, or attention-seeking.

Practice 24

> “The website design feels too noisy.”

「這個網站設計*視覺元素太多、太搶眼，令畫面顯得繁雜*。」

Practice 25

> “The designer replaced the noisy colours with softer tones.”

「設計師把那些*過於強烈搶眼、造成視覺干擾的色彩*換成較柔和的色調。」 noisy design/colour = 視覺刺激太強或元素太多，以致過分搶眼並造成干擾的

This is related to:

* busy design

* crowded design

But the emphasis differs:

* busy → 元素很多、繁複

* crowded → 空間中元素太多、太擠

* noisy → 視覺刺激很強、互相爭奪注意力

13. white noise(持續而均勻的背景聲) — 白噪音

Meaning: A continuous sound containing many frequencies, often used to mask other sounds or help people concentrate or sleep.

Practice 26

> “I use white noise to help me sleep.”

「我會播放*白噪音*來幫助自己入睡。」

Practice 27

> “The machine produces gentle white noise.”

「這部機器會產生柔和持續的*白噪音*。」

*white noise = 由廣泛頻率混合形成的持續均勻聲音，常用來遮蓋其他環境聲

14. *noisily = making a lot of sound — 嘈吵地; 大聲地

Practice 28

> “The children ran noisily through the hallway.”

「孩子們*吵吵鬧鬧地*跑過走廊。」

Practice 29

> “The old fan turned noisily above us.”

「那把舊風扇在我們頭頂*發出很大聲響地運轉*。」 *noisily = 以產生很多明顯聲響的方式

15. *noisiness = degree/state of producing excessive sound — 嘈吵程度; 噪音程度

Practice 30

> “Customers complained about the noisiness of the restaurant.”

「顧客投訴餐廳的嘈吵程度。」

Practice 31

> “The noisiness of the machine makes it unsuitable for an office.”

「這部機器的運作噪音太大，所以不適合放在辦公室。」 noisiness = 某人、物件或地方產生大量聲響的程度或狀態

Important distinction: noisy vs loud

They overlap, but they are not identical.

loud

= high in volume

> “The music is loud.”

「音樂音量很大。」

noisy

= producing or containing a lot of sound, often unwanted or distracting

> “The restaurant is noisy.”

「餐廳有很多聲音，很嘈吵。」

One single sound can be loud.

A whole environment is often noisy because many sounds are present.

Important distinction: noise vs sound

sound

Neutral general term:

> “I heard a sound.”

「我聽到一個聲音。」

noise

Often suggests the sound is:

- * unwanted
- * unpleasant
- * distracting
- * irregular

> “Traffic noise kept me awake.”

「交通噪音令我睡不著。」

But remember: noise can sometimes simply mean a noticeable unidentified sound:

> “What was that noise?”

「剛才那是甚麼聲音？」

Important distinction: noisy vs busy

Your original phrase deliberately uses both:

> “a busy café”

> “a noisy office”

A busy café emphasizes:

很多顧客和活動正在進行

A noisy café emphasizes:

很多聲音, 環境嘈吵

A café can therefore be:

* busy but not very noisy

* noisy but not especially busy

* both busy and noisy

Important distinction: noise vs signal

Especially important in technology and data:

signal

= the meaningful information you want

noise

= unwanted variation or interference obscuring it

> “The trend is difficult to see because of all the noise in the data.”

「由於數據中有大量隨機干擾，真正的趨勢很難看出來。」

Family-extension note

Following your point about busy → busybody, there are also useful compounds built from noise whose meanings should not be overlooked:

* noise-cancelling = 主動降噪的

* background noise = 背景噪音／背景雜音

* white noise = 白噪音

* noise pollution = 噪音污染

* noise level = 噪音水平

* noise reduction = 降噪／噪音減少

They are not all separate dictionary meanings of noise, but they are important members of the practical noise family.
